Gen'l James A Beaver Mch 10

Bellefonte Republican

Established 1869. BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1909. Vol. 42. No. 48.

ANDREWS WARNS PARTY ON OVER-CONFIDENCE

State Chairman Urges Republicans to be Alert at Polls.

EVERY VOTE IS NEEDED

Democrats on Still Hunt, Seeking Complimentary Votes for Nominee for Supreme Bench—Republicans Have Splendid Ticket.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.

Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, chairman of the Republican state committee, today sounded a note of warning to the Republicans of Pennsylvania.

He made it clear that he expects every Republican voter in this state to do his duty on Nov. 2.

With election day only about one week off the state chairman insists that there must be a lining up of the Republican forces in every county if the Republican ticket is to be elected, as it ought to be, by an overwhelming majority. Since early in September Chairman Andrews, from the headquarters of the Republican state committee in this city, has been directing an aggressive campaign. Not that the Republican ticket is in danger; it is not. But many Republicans of Pennsylvania frequently take Republican success for granted and make no especial effort to go to the polls.

It was this danger of over-confidence that Colonel Andrews had in mind today.

"Pennsylvania is the banner Republican state; we have the votes, and to poll the right kind of majority it is only necessary for the voters to cast their ballots," said the chairman. "Many Republicans in an off-year like this, when there is no particular excitement, proceed upon the theory that the rest of the party will vote and thus insure the election of the ticket. Now it is an axiom of warfare that an army must constantly be on guard. I want to warn the Republicans of this state against the 'last card' in politics. They should see that Democratic effort does not threaten Republican success.

"The Republican party has a splendid ticket. A better one has never been offered the people of Pennsylvania. A. E. Sisson and J. A. Stober are able and experienced men; they have records that commend them to the people, and they are public spirited citizens. They will contribute their full share to a continuance of good government in this commonwealth.

The Judicial Canvass.

"Judge Robert von Moschzisker will make a great supreme court justice. He has a splendid record as a common pleas pudge; he is known to the lawyers of the state as one of the ablest members of the Pennsylvania bar, and he has the confidence of all of the people. Not a syllable has been uttered against him since his nomination. His qualifications for the supreme bench are conceded by everybody. He ought to be elected by a tremendous majority. His Democratic opponent, Mr. Munson, is presenting this state with a spectacle it has never before witnessed. He is the only candidate for a high judicial office, who, in his eagerness for election, has so far overlooked the proprieties as to make a personal and compromising campaign for votes. He is now on a campaign tour, meeting the voters and making what are nothing more nor less than ordinary stump speeches. In Williamsport he maintains a large literary bureau, which has sent out thousands of documents and letters, in which he asks the voters to support him as a non-partisan candidate. He has adopted the endless chain system of letter writing and by this means hopes to reach every voter in the state.

"The old-fashioned idea that judicial office should seek the man and not the man seek the office manifestly has no place in the Democratic candidate's plan of politics. I do not believe many Republicans will entertain for a moment the proposition that they vote for a Democratic candidate for the supreme court.

"Mr. Munson's conduct in the campaign illustrates his conception of the dignity of the highest judicial tribunal in this commonwealth. Judge von Moschzisker has taken no part whatever in the campaign. He has asked no one to vote for him. He will take his seat on the supreme bench without having violated its sacred traditions.

National and State Issues.

"As I have repeatedly said, the elections in Pennsylvania this year are of national importance. A failure of the Republicans of the Keystone State to score a handsome majority would be accepted by the low tariff revisionists of the middle west as evidence that our people are not particularly interested in the protective system.

"A reduced majority will furnish an impetus to agitation for a lowering of the tariff rates. Pennsylvania is satisfied with the new tariff law because it is bringing prosperity. It should be the first state to record its indorsement of that legislation.

"There is another and very sound reason why the Republicans of the Keystone State should poll an unprecedented off-year majority at the coming election. Next year we must elect Governor Stuart's successor and other state officials, a new legislature that will elect Senator Oliver's successor, and a congressional delegation. A reduced majority in November would not only be a backward step; it would encourage the Democracy and inspire it with hope of success in 1910.

"The Republican party in Pennsylvania has never been in better condition than it is today. But, as I have said, it is necessary that every Republican do his duty on Nov. 2."

ARRESTED FOR DESERTION

Charles Yarnell Lodged in Jail on Return from West.

Charles Yarnell, a young man about 24 years of age, was arrested on Monday and lodged in jail charged with having deserted his wife and child about one year ago. Young Yarnell was taken into custody on his arrival in town from Minnesota.

Yarnell was married a little more than one year ago to a daughter of Benjamin Smith, who is employed at the lime kilns. Shortly after the marriage, it is alleged, he left his wife and went West. Several warrants were issued for his arrest by Justice Keichline, but each time the police in various cities failed to locate their man. When he appeared in town on Monday Justice Keichline turned a warrant over to Chief Dukeman and Yarnell was taken into custody.

INSTRUCTION TRAIN SPEAKERS

State College Will Again Aid in Work of Aiding Farmers.

State College will again play an important part in the proposed campaign of education by means of farmers' instruction trains, which will be run in different parts of the State during November and December. The Pennsylvania Railroad will enter the western agricultural belt and will run a train between Pittsburg and Erie, November 16 and 17. Ample accommodation will be afforded farmers desiring to make the trip.

The speakers to be provided by State College include Dr. W. F. Hunt, dean of the agricultural school; Professor H. E. VanNorman, of the dairy department; B. E. Watts, of the department of horticulture; Professor Alva Agee, F. D. Gardner and C. W. Larson.

Mass Meeting at Baileyville.

The very inclement weather did not deter the patriotic citizens of Baileyville from turning out in large numbers for the mass meeting last Thursday night in the interest of the movement to erect a monument to Co. E, 45th Penna. Vols. Rev. R. M. Campbell was the principal speaker and he was followed by a number of others who also spoke earnestly for the cause. A committee was organized and by-laws and constitution adopted. The following officers were elected: Captain W. H. Fry, president; Rev. J. O. McCracken, vice president; W. S. Ward, treasurer; W. E. Williams, secretary. R. G. Goheen, Frank Clemson W. H. Musser, J. G. Heberling and Luther Miller were named for the Executive Committee. Harry McCracken, J. N. Bell, Edward Woomer, Henry Koch, W. S. Bailey, A. Mary Goheen, Isaih Beck and J. B. McFry were selected as a committee to solicit funds. The monument will be in tablet form and will contain 194 names. We know of no movement undertaken recently which so commends itself to the public as affording an opportunity to show appreciation of the gallant services of the "boys in blue." No monument could be too handsome or too costly to stand for their noble deeds on the field of battle.

Predicts Cold Wave Next Week.

A special bulletin issued by the United States Weather Bureau, at Washington, yesterday, predicts a cold wave next week, reaching the Atlantic States by Tuesday or Wednesday. The bulletin follows: A disturbance attended by general precipitation will reach the Pacific coast about Thursday, extend over the plateau and Rockies Friday, the central valleys and great lakes Saturday and Sunday and reach the Atlantic seaboard about Monday, Nov. 1st. Following this disturbance a cool wave for the season will overspread the Pacific States by the close of the week, extend over the plateau and Rocky Mountains by Sunday, the central valleys and lake region about Monday, and reach the Atlantic States Tuesday or Wdenesday.

TRAIN MANGLES BODY OF UNIONVILLE MAN

David F. McMonigal Crushed Second Time by Same Train.

WALKING ON TRACK

Sad Accident on Saturday Night Near Bellefonte Passenger Station--Unaware of Tragedy Until Train Was Returning to Milesburg.

With the passengers not even aware of the terrible tragedy David F. McMonigal, of near Unionville. was ground to pieces by the 8.20 o'clock train on Saturday night a few feet from the crossing at Gamble, Gheen & Company's mill.

McMonigal's body was run over twice by the same train. Unknown to the engineer and crew and passengers he was run down and killed by the train as it approached the Pennsylvania passenger station. It was not until the train was backing out toward Milesburg that the accident was discovered. A brakeman, standing on the platform of the rear coach, noticed a man lying upon the track, but the train was moving so rapidly that it could not be stopped until the wheels had again crushed into the already lifeless form. As quickly as was possible the train was stopped and the body, torn into shreds, was picked up. The train at once returned to the passenger station and the body of the unfortunate man was removed to the baggage room. There it was identified as that of McMonigal.

At first it was believed that the man had wandered onto the tracks after the train had pulled into the station. Judging by the position of the body, as it was found, it was the belief of the train crew that McMonigal was instantly killed when the train raced into town and that his lifeless body remained on the track unnoticed until the train was on its return trip to Milesburg. The body was so terribly mangled as to make identification difficult, but it proved to be that of McMonigal, who had been spending more or less time in Bellefonte in the last two or three weeks. It is supposed that McMonigal, who was quite deaf, was walking on the tracks and did not hear the train until too late to escape. The accident happened along that stretch of track which has been the scene of several fatalities in recent years.

McMonigal was about 50 years of age and was employed at a sawmill near Unionville, operated by a man named Walker. He was a son of James McMonigal, and was married but for some time had not been living with his wife owing to some domestic troubles. He was a relative of Wilson Laird, the watchman at the passenger station.

Coroner Huff held an inquest on Monday afternoon at the undertaking rooms of Frank E. Naginey. The jury rendered a verdict that McMonigal had been killed as the train entered Bellefonte. The jury recommended that the railroad watchmen at the crossing at Gamble, Gheen & Co's. mill and also at the Pennsylvania passenger station be kept on duty until after the arrival and departure of the 8.20 P. M. train each night. Watchmen are stationed at these crossings but they remain on duty only until 6 o'clock each evening.

George Shugert Knew.

Little George Shugert, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Shugert, is a pupil at the Bellefonte Academy. Several days ago his teacher, Miss Jennie Harper, was conducting a class in spelling.

"What does 'dogs' spell?" asked Miss Harper.

There was no answer and she repeated the question. Still there was no response, and finally she said:

"What does 'dog' spell?"

"Spells dog," promptly replied George Shugert, who is a bright youngster for his eight years.

"Then what does 'dogs' spell?" continued Miss Harper.

"Why it spells 'pups,'" replied George, and the school had to take a recess for a few seconds to get things back to normal conditions.

Big Lumber Deal.

The McNitt, Hewitt Lumber Company yesterday closed a deal with the Pennsylvania Match Company, agreeing to deliver upward of 4,000,000 feet of white pine in the next three years. The amount involved is in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Sunday Freight Trains.

For the first Sunday since the severe depression of 1907, the Pennsylvania Railroad last week moved freight, increased traffic requiring the service of the entire force of the Pittsburg and middle divisions.

DANIEL DREIBELBEISS

Well Known Farmer Dies at Home Near State College.

Daniel Dreibelbeiss, an old and respected citizen and one of Centre County's most progressive farmers, died very suddenly at his home near State College last Friday morning. He arose about 5 o'clock that morning, as usual and was in apparent good health. Several members of the family had planned going away that day and he was interested in helping them get an early start. When the family were ready for breakfast they called to him out at the barn but received no response. One of the family immediately went to the barn and was horrified to find Mr. Dreibelbeiss sitting there, cold in death. His sudden end was due to heart failure. Mr. Dreibelbeiss was a life-long member of the Reformed church and was a man with many friends and a congenial neighbor. He is survived by a widow, six daughters and five sons, as well as three brothers and three sisters in the West. The brothers are Joseph, William and John. The daughters are Mrs. Jacob Krumrine, Mrs. Harvey Bowersox and Mrs. George Lutz, of State College; Mrs. Paul Rigeley, of New York; Misses Maud and Mary, both at home. The sons are William, residing at Greensburg; John, of Pennsylvania Furnace; and Newton, Martin, and Walter, of State College. Interment was made on Tuesday morning in the Pine Hall cemetery, near the late home of the deceased, Rev. A. A. Black officiating.

HENRY GARBRICK

Well Known Farmer and Resident of Zion is Dead.

Death brought to a close, at 5 o'clock on Saturday morning, last, the long and useful life of Henry Garbrick, at his home at Zion. While not unexpected, because he had been ill for the last year or more, the announcement of his death was received with sorrow by a host of friends. Interment was made on Monday, services being held at the Garbrick homestead at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Garbrick was a farmer and for the last thirty years or more resided at Zion.

A man of many splendid traits he was held in the highest esteem by all and his death is a loss keenly felt by the community in which he lived. Born about seventy-one years ago Mr. Garbrick was the son of Jacob Garbrick, who resided along the Jacksonville road. The early training received on his father's farm proved invaluable to him in later years. When about forty years of age he removed to Zion and from that time down to the day of his death made that his home. He is survived by a widow and the following children: Mrs. Joel Royer, of below Zion; Otis Garbrick, who resides near Dakota, Ill; Calvin, living along the Jacksonville road; and Roy, at home, and Mrs. Frank Clevenstine, of Bellefonte. Four sisters and brothers also survive, as follows: Mrs. John Ishler, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Peter Hoffman, of near Hublersburg, and Emanuel and Jacob, of Zion.

MRS. LUCY POTTER MOYER.

After a brief illness, due to the infirmities of advanced age, Mrs. Lucy Potter Moyer died on Monday at the residence of Mrs. Louisa V. Harris, on Allegheny steeet. Interment was made yesterday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. Dr. J. Allison Platts, of the Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was a member. Mrs. Moyer was a daughter of Wm. I. Wilson, of Potter's Bank, and was born October 11, 1829. She was married to Dr. Frederick Moyer, and was a sister of the late Mrs. A. G. Curtin. She is survived by the following sisters: Miss Mary Wilson, Mrs. Laura Elliott and Miss Alice Wilson.

MRS. FRANK STEPHENSON.

Mrs. Frank Stephenson died on Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Johnston, aged 72 years. Interment was made on Monday at Cedar Hill cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Barry, of this place, and Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Salona. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Thomas and Luther, of Walker township, and four daughters, Mrs. Johnston, of Bellefonte; Mrs. G. M. Stover, of Clinton county; Mrs. Linnie Watt, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Lizzie Segner, of Shippensburg.

MARY HOWARD.

Little eight-year-old Mary Howard, who had been a patient sufferer for some time, died at the Bellefonte hospital on Monday night. She was operated on about two weeks ago for appendicitis. Naturally very frail and weak her death was due to exhaustion. She was a daughter of Daniel Howard but had been residing, up to the time of her illness, with her grandparents at Axe Mann.

(Continued on fourth Page.)

STATE HOLDS UP COUNTY FOR $1350.72

Claims This Amount is Due From Harris Township.

WORK ON STATE ROADS

Place Burden of Collection on County—Commissioners Pay Over $11,936.33 in Personal Property Tax—Three-fourths Returned to County.

State Treasurer Sheatz has withheld $1350.73 from Centre County which is charged against Haines township for State road improvements. Owing to the attitude assumed by Mr. Sheatz the only course left open to the county is to proceed against Harris township for the collection of that amount.

County Commissioner's Clerk E. J. Williams on Monday carried to Harrisburg a certified check for $11,936.33, representing personal property tax. Under the law three-fourths of this is returnable to the county and Mr. Williams brought back with him a check for that amount.

A number of counties in the State have met with the fate experienced by Centre County owing to the failure of a township to pay its share of the cost of road improvements. Centre County has paid its share in this instance but Harris township having neglected to do so the county is held liable by State Treasurer Sheatz. The burden for making collection of the amount is thus placed upon the county.

State Highway Commissioner Hunter in another column of "The Republican" this week advertises for bids for the proposed extension of the State road through Bellefonte. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the County Commissioners. Bids will be opened at 10 o'clock, November 23, at the State Highway Department, at Harrisburg. The proposed extension covers 6,972 feet and runs from the borough line on Linn Street, below McCoy's corner, to Allegheny Streets, (macadam), from Allegheny to Bishop (in brick), and out Bishop Street to the borough line (macadam.)

Real Estate Transfers.

Recorder William Brown has recorded the following real estate transfers in the last week:

W. C. Cassidy ex to J. Kennedy Johnston, property in Bellefonte, Oct. 16, 1909, $2700.

Abednego Williams et ux to George G. Fink, tract land in Huston township, Oct. 24, 1909, $50.

Annie B. Tate et baron Joseph W. Sunday, tract land in Ferguson township, June 21, 1909, $152.

Jasper A. Williams et ux to Selina Fink, tract land in Huston township, March 12, 1890, $837.

W. L. Foster et al to Frank P. Llewellyn, lots in State College, Sept. 27, 1909, $1345.44.

D. M. Neidigh et al admrs to E. L. Kessler, tract land in Haines township, Sept. 29, 1909, $700.

W. E. Hurley, Sheriff, to Ary Cole, tract land in Spring township, Oct. 15, 1909, $80.

W. J. Harter et al to Frank W. Wingart, tract land in Penn township, Aug. 30, 1909, $75.

T. A. Shoemaker et ux to G. E. Haupt, tract land in Bellefonte, Oct. 9, 1909, $800.

John W. Howard et ux to Frederick A. Howard, tract land in Burnside township, May 11, 1908, $600.

D. W. Woodring et ux to Emanuel Shroyer, lot in Boggs township, May 15, 1876, $103.

Frank B. Scott et ux to W. Herdic Wood, tract land in Ferguson township, Oct. 15, 1909, $1.

W. Herdic Wood to Nora S. Scott, tract land in Ferguson township, Oct. 16, 1909 $1.

State Vs. Bucknell.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the football game between State College and Bucknell, at Lewisburg, Saturday, November 6. A large crowd of Sate students will accompany the team and cheer for its success. The elevens are well matched and the strong rivalry between the two colleges insures an exciting game.

Great Horse Sale.

Edward Hugler will sell a car load of fine range horses at public sale, on Saturday Nov. 6, at the Haag House stables. There will be thirty or more horses in the lot including some splendidly mated teams and drivers.

WM. RESIDES INJURED

Sustains Fractured Skull by Fall From Trestle.

While at work last Friday on a trestle, at the lower quarry of the American Lime & Stone Company, Wm. Resides, the well known carpenter, slipped and fell a distance of about nine feet, landing on his head on a pile of bricks and sustaining a fractured skull. The accident happened about 10 o'clock in the morning and Mr. Resides was at once removed to the Bellefonte hospital where his injuries were dressed. At his urgent request Mr. Resides was taken to his home, on East High street, later in the day. For a time the attending physicians regarded his condition as critical. It is with no little pleasure that we are able to announce that he is now much better.

Just how the accident happened Mr. Resides was unable to explain to his wife or to the attending physicians. He was on the trestle, sawing a piece of lumber, when he supposedly missed his footing and pitched forward onto his head. A heavy cap which he wore at the time saved him from more serious injuries. The cap was cut through in three places, showing where his head had come into contact with the bricks. At the hospital it was found that the scalp was terribly gashed and that the skull was cracked. His chest and one hand were badly bruised. His neck was much swollen and for a time he was unable to take solid food. With considerable fortitude Mr. Resides bore up despite his intense suffering. Fearing that his injuries might prove to be fatal he asked that he be removed to his home. His wishes were complied with and much to the gratification of his many friends he has been rapidly recovering and soon hopes to be about.

SAMUEL B. MILLER HURT

Falls From Load of Straw and Sustains Fracture of Ribs.

Samuel B. Miller, the well known old soldier and resident of Bellefonte, met with an accident on Tuesday afternoon which might have cost him his life. As it was he sustained a fracture of the ribs and other injuries which were quite painful. For a time he was unconscious.

Mr. Miller was loading straw at the Armor farm at the time of the accident. The binding rope broke and he fell off the wagon, his head striking the ground and his body being dashed against a stone wall with considerable force. He was unconscious for a time but later recovered sufficiently to walk home. Owing to difficulty experienced in breathing it was necessary to keep him sitting in a Morris chair during the greater part of Tuesday night. His condition yesterday was much improved and he was reported as resting easily.

Tried to Rob Postoffice.

Three desperadoes made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Jersey Shore postoffice several nights ago. A railroad watchman, happening to pass the building, noticed a light inside. Investigating, he found two men working on the safe, with a third man standing guard. The railroad watchman gave the alarm whereupon the burglars fired several shots from a revolver at him and then fled. The men were finally captured in a cornfield, near Avis station.

Co-ed Was Laughed Away.

Pittsburg dispatches state that a new way was recently found to get rid of women students at the University of Pittsburg, and add that Mrs. Mary A. C. Collins, of Tyrone, was so annoyed that she concluded to quit the school. According to the dispatches 123 boys attending the school kept laughing at Mrs. Collins until she left, attending but three lectures.

Big Real Estate Transfer.

Leathers Bros., the hustling real estate dealers and builders, have just closed a deal whereby they secure possession of 681 building lots at Northumberland. It is their intention to develop the same at the earliest opportunity. Their purchase gives them control of the real estate situation in that thriving town.

KEEP THIS IN MIND

A Pointer on How to Mark Your Ballot Next Tuesday.

REPUBLICAN	X
DEMOCRATIC
PROHIBITION
SOCIALIST

BILLIARDS--AND SOMETHING ELSE.

The Chance That Came With a Lesson In the Game.

By M. J. PHILLIPS.

[Copyright, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.]

The trouble was that, while Carrick admitted his offense and was anxious to present his excuse, Miss Welland by her manner ignored the existence of an offense and so made excuse impossible. At first blush that sounds all right, but it wasn't.

For how could a fellow secure freedom from his grievous dungeon when the pardon board publicly and officially pretended to believe that he was enjoying the sweet atmosphere of liberty? That was the question which bothered Carrick.

He felt that five minutes' talk with Miss Welland would set everything right. But she was graciously and firmly unapproachable. She insisted on treating him just the same as ever, only more so. And Carrick rattled his dungeon chains, while Miss Welland smiled sweetly on Purves Bland.

Carrick wasn't really to blame. They had been going to the theater Wednesday evening after having waited three weeks to get tickets because everybody else seemed to want to go too. And that very Wednesday afternoon the manager had sent for Carrick.

"Be here at 8 o'clock tonight," he directed. "There will be a special meeting of the board for the purpose of discussing your carbon improvement plan. If we take it up"— His pompous smile was rich with promise.

For a young man whom opportunity had seized by the nape of the neck and was thrusting headlong into prosperity Carrick was singularly unappreciative. He knew how Miss Welland was anticipating seeing "What a Woman Would Do" and the impossibility of securing other tickets during the remainder of the run. Miss Welland's slightest wish was more important just then than a good many other things, so he mentioned "another engagement."

"Then you must break it, Mr. Carrick," said the manager quite decidedly. "Mr. Kern, who is our president and heaviest stockholder, will be here from the west tonight on his way to New York. He can stay only two hours. We can do nothing without his approval. So you see how necessary it is that you attend the meeting."

There seemed no way out of it. Carrick wrote a note to Miss Welland explaining the circumstances, sealed it and rang for a messenger. When a diminutive representative of the A. D. T. arrived Carrick was smitten with a brilliant idea. "Why not send the tickets so she could go anyway? So he wrote another note, inclosed the tickets with it and handed both envelopes to the messenger. And the one containing the tickets was never delivered.

All unconscious of this fact, Carrick went back to the office at 8 o'clock. Fifteen minutes later word came that Mr. Kern was delayed by a wreck and that the board meeting would be held next morning.

On the chance that he might yet be in time to escort Miss Welland to the theater he rushed off to find her, only to be informed by the maid that she had gone out. He went on home then, where he was promptly pressed into service by his sister Beatrice, who wanted company as far as Gladys Burton's. And at the Burton door they had encountered Miss Welland.

That young lady had smilingly cut short his explanations before they were begun. Later, when he heard of the nondelivery of the tickets, he tried again. But Purves Bland was now in the play, and explanations were impossible. He never saw Miss Welland unless the hint-impervious Mr. Bland was at her elbow. He haunted balls and recitals and tea fights in an endeavor to tell her of the meeting that didn't come off, but in vain.

Weeks of plotting and planning and waiting for opportunities that never came left him worried and hungry looking. Why rejoice that his carbon improvement scheme was a go when the only girl in the world—it had reached that stage—wouldn't look at him or, worse still, looked at him precisely as she looked at everybody else?

But his persistence won finally. By the assistance of Dick Sargent, engaged and consequently sympathetic, he was assured of a monopoly of Miss Welland and the billiard room during a dance at Burton's one night. Dick promised fifteen minutes if he had to tie Purves Bland with the portieres.

"Miss Welland," he began breathlessly when Bland had been lured away by Dick and the future Mrs. Sargent, "you know the night of 'What a Woman Would Do' "—

"But you were to teach me to play billiards, you know," remarked Miss Welland.

"But I want to explain," he urged.

"I got your note." Miss Welland reminded him. "And Beatrice has told me about the loss of the tickets. So that's all over and forgotten."

Being equipped only with the slow going mental processes of mere man, Carrick was somewhat dazed by this information. For weeks he had been preparing himself to take the enemy's fortifications by storm. To find that there was to be no war was surprising, to say the least.

"You know all about it?" he queried stupidly.

"Yes."

"And it's all forgotten?"

"Yes."

"Forgiven too?"

"I suppose so."

"Then," said Carrick, with a radiant smile and a glint of determination in his eye, "we shall take up the billiard lesson—and something else." Miss Welland chose to ignore the remark.

"First we will send the balls to the lower cushion to see who gets the first shot. That is a bank."

"What a funny name!"

"Yes," said Carrick. "The word is usually applied to the edges of a river; also," with a sidewise glance, "to institutions where young men who are contemplating matrimony board up their money."

"Hadn't we better join the others?" asked Miss Welland irreverently.

"No; they said they'd be back for us."

"O-oh! I missed that one," said the girl presently.

"You don't hold the stick properly," pronounced Carrick. "It's like this." And he calmly took possession of both her hands as they rested on the cue.

"Isn't billiards very difficult to learn?" asked Miss Welland.

"Why?"

"It takes so long to learn how to hold the cue!" The lesson progressed better after that—for a time.

It came Carrick's shot. The balls had stopped in the form of a triangle. A clever "draw" earned him the billiard. Miss Carrick applauded. "It came as though a magnet were attracting it," she said.

"That being my ball," expounded the teacher, "the same forces act upon it as act on me. A magnet has been drawing me for about two years now. And doesn't the red ball remind you of some one? See how closely it has stayed near your ball since we've been playing!"

"Why shouldn't it?" queried Miss Welland saucily as she shot and missed. "And, anyway, resemblances have nothing to do with the game. You're teaching me billiards, remember."

"Billiards—and something else," said Carrick. "See how the red ball sulks at the lower end of the table. I'm going to stir it up."

His ball clicked Miss Welland's cue ball gently and doubled the corner just in time to be stopped by it. They met square on its return from the cushion and stopped, a few inches apart.

"See how near they are," said Carrick—"no chance for a misunderstanding, no opportunity for theater tickets to get lost en route from one to the other. The red ball is the length of their world away. That's the way they belong, side by side, always."

"What is it called," asked Miss Welland hurriedly, "when one ball prevents the other from going, like that?"

"That," said Carrick, laying down his cue with a certain finality and advancing around the table, "is called a kiss!"

Dick Sargent is in favor of a double wedding, "for," he says, "a fellow needs the moral support of his kind in a crisis!" Carrick is building a house with a billiard room in it.

A Decisive Step.

His chum came in and found him slipping a lock of hair into an envelope, not furtively or surreptitiously, but just placing it under cover in a calm, businesslike way.

"Hello!" says the visitor. "What's up?"

"Nothing," he answered. "I'm only sending back Miss Hamilton-Highlow's lock of hair: that's all."

"Engagement off again?"

"Yes."

"How many times does this make?"

"Five. It's final this time, though, one way or the other."

"Does she say so?"

"Oh, she always says it's final. I'm deciding things just now. It's off for ever or cards out soon!"

"How do you do it?"

"Little scheme of my own. You know the color of her hair, don't you—warm brown with a little raw umber in it? Well, this sample of hair I'm doing up is red—good, regular, standard red. I tell you we're going to get down to genuine emotion this time. She'll know whether she loves me or not, and if she does she'll walk me in by the ear."—London Mail.

No Cause For Worry.

"It's sure enough strange how marriage changes some men," commented a Washington Heights dweller to a friend who stood with him on a corner. "Now, see that chap entering my apartment house? He's been married only two weeks, and yet—say, do you see what he's carrying? Well, it's a garbage pail for their new flat. Why, if any one had told him three months ago that he'd carry a garbage pail through the street he'd have been ready to fight. I never saw such a"—

"All right—all right," the friend interrupted. "Tell me about him next year."

"Why?"

"Because he'll be changed back again by that time. Don't worry about the case."—New York Globe.

Not the Time For Magnifying Glasses.

There was a little Scottish boy who had the quality of astuteness highly developed. The boy's grandmother was packing his lunch for him to take to school one morning. Suddenly, looking up into the old lady's face, he said:

"Grandmother, does yer specs magnify?"

"A little, my child," she answered.

"Aweel, then," said the boy, "I wad juist like it if ye wad tak' them aff when ye're packin' my looneh."—Liverpool Post.

Playing With Words.

"Matinee idol?"

"Yes."

"Idle?"

"Yes."—Theater Magazine.

CHEAP POLITICS IN JUDICIAL FIGHT

Democratic Aspirant For Supreme Bench Condemned.

CAMPAIGN TRICKS TO REACT

Unprecedented and Undignified Course of Candidate For Highest Court In the Commonwealth Severely Criticised.

[Special Correspondence.]

Harrisburg, Oct. 26.

The visit here last week of C. LaRue Munson, the Democratic nominee for the supreme bench, on his campaigning tour of the state, gave members of the bar and others an opportunity of verifying the reports regarding Mr. Munson's political methods and his utter disregard of the proprieties and complete lack of appreciation of the dignity of the office to which he aspires.

No candidate for ward constable could do more than has been daily exhibited by this aspirant for a seat in the highest court of the commonwealth.

Upon his visit here Mr. Munson made his headquarters at one of the hotels. He evidently expected a number of the Republican members of the bar to at least call upon him, but in this he was sorely disappointed. His coming had been heralded in advance and every effort possible was made by Democratic politicians who are engineering the canvass for Mr. Munson to persuade Republican members of the legal profession to "pay their respects" to the gentleman from Williamsport.

Republicans Wideawake.

But Republicans were not caught napping. They did not give the Democratic candidate an opportunity to exploit his "non-partisan" campaign game, and they left him alone with his Democratic contingent, which was but a corporal's guard.

An enormous sum of money is being spent to promote Mr. Munson's candidacy.

Where it is coming from Republicans can only surmise.

The fact that Mr. Munson has among his clients a number of powerful corporations has been accentuated since he started out on his hunt for votes, and the mails have been flooded with tons of expensive campaign literature exploiting his candidacy and attacking his Republican opponent.

Misleading post cards give a map of Pennsylvania, so marked as to create the impression that the incumbent on the supreme bench come from but a small section of the state, have been circulated by the thousands. If upon these very maps lines are drawn from north to south it will be shown that the state will be blocked off so that every section will have a representative on the supreme court.

Cheap Game to Catch Votes.

Justices of the supreme court are not representatives of counties or districts. Each justice represents the whole state, and local lines have nothing to do with it.

It would be just as reasonable and just as correct to argue that a much larger portion of the commonwealth has no representation in the executive branch of the state government. There is but one governor, and of necessity he resides in one of the sixty-nine counties. Shall it then be argued that the other sixty-eight counties have no representation in the office of the governor? The friends of Mr. Munson ought to call in those campaign documents. They may do him harm by giving the impression that he is making his canvass on the platform of local repreesntation in the supreme court. This would be both illegal and illogical.

But attempts to catch votes by such tactics simply emphasizes the undignified and puerile character of the canvass being made by Mr. Munson and his political associates.

In the selection of men for the supreme bench geographical considerations are of minor moment.

Men of judicial temperament, of knowledge of the law, of known character and integrity and of keen appreciation of the dignity of the high office and of its grave and serious responsibilities are wanted by the people.

Judge Robert von Moschzisker, the Republican nominee, is just such a man.

As a loyal and patriotic citizen, as an able lawyer and as a tried and capable judge, he has shown his fitness for the honorable position for which he has been named.

His attitude in absolutely holding aloof from the political campaign has been the subject of favorable comment upon every hand, when contrasted with the political campaigning of his opponent.

Beat Her Out.

Waggs—I had the laugh on my wife yesterday.

Boggs—How did it happen?

Waggs—We were out driving, and she discovered an echo that beat her out of the last word.

The Money Question.

"Wot do they mean, Jimmy, when they say money talks?"

"I dunno unless it's the wonderful way it says goodby to yer."—London Tatler.

Hunting For Justice.

Justice is of course loudly demanded by every litigant in a court of law, but it is a frequent infirmity of the human mind to confuse justice with one's own cause. The late Thomas B. Reed, according to a writer in Law Notes, used to tell an amusing story to illustrate this tendency.

He was once retained by an enterprising client to prosecute an action. On talking with the plaintiff's witnesses Mr. Reed found that their stories were far from consistent, so he reported the fact to his client and advised that the suit be dropped. The client was somewhat perturbed, but told the attorney he would have a talk with the witnesses and let him know the next morning what he had decided to do. True to his word, he dropped in bright and early, wearing the cheerful look of one who has fought the good fight.

"I've seen those witnesses," he explained, "and they say they must have been mistaken when they talked with you. They all see it alike now. I've also seen some of the jurymen, and they think I'll win. Now, if there's such a thing as justice in law we can't lose."

The Breeches Bible.

One of the books which a bibliomaniac handles reverently is the famous Geneva Bible, better known as the "Breeches Bible." This name is due to the rendering of Genesis iii. 7, where Adam and Eve are said to have "sewed fig tree leaves together and made themselves breeches." This had been the reading of the first English Bible, Wycliffe's version, but later translators had substituted the word "apron" for "breeches," and the Geneva Bible reverted to the original. The fact that only one edition of the Geneva version contained this sentence makes the limited number more precious to the book gatherer. The title page of this edition announces that it was "imprinted at London by the deputies of the queene's most excellent majestie" in 1599. The first edition appeared in 1560, and for sixty years this was the favorite Bible with the people, who reluctantly laid it aside for the authorized version in 1611.

The Same Dimensions.

The bride to be had the air of one who is unreconciled to the existing state of affairs. "Can't we take a wedding trip, as we planned?" she asked plaintively.

"Not just now," said the young man, "on account of my partner's illness."

"I thought it would be such fun, taking that six days' journey in the cars!" she sighed.

"Well, now, see here," said the young man. "If we take the flat I looked at yesterday it'll be just the same as living in the parlor car stateroom, except that the scenery won't change."—Youth's Companion.

The Finisher.

Lawyer—What is your occupation? Witness—I'm a piano finisher. Lawyer—Be a little more definite. Do you polish them or move them?—Boston Transcript.

The Gossip.

Nell—She's an awful gossip. She tells everything she hears. Belle—Oh, she tells more than that.—Philadelphia Record.

Do not make unjust gains. They are equal to a loss.—Hesiod.

Pain Weakens

Headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or pains of any nature weaken the system—they are a strain upon the nerves. Almost instant relief can be obtained by taking Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills, and without any bad after-effects. Take one on first indication of an attack—it will ward it off. They are a pleasant little tablet, sold by druggists everywhere, 25 doses 25 cents; never sold in bulk.

"I was subject to constant headaches for a period of four years. At times I was almost unfitted for the work in which I am engaged, that of station agent. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the result has been that I have entirely eradicated my system of those continuous headaches that follow a continual mental strain. They have done for me all that is claimed for them."

O. L. RUSSELL,
Agt. C. & N. W. Ry., Battle Creek, Ia.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for a year now for neuralgia and find there is nothing like them. They surely have been a blessing to me." MRS. M. J. HAMILTON, Upper Alton, Ills.

Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and we authorize him to return the price of first package (only) if it fails to benefit you.

Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind

A Viceroy's Plain Living.

In Miss Juliet Bredon's book about her uncle, Sir Robert Hart, the "grand old man of China," for many years in charge of the imperial customs service, is the following story:

"One of the most influential of Sir Robert's Chinese friends was the great Li Hung Chang. The diplomat liked Li's household because of the simplicity he found there—no wearisome courses at dinner, but fish and perhaps a dish of chicken with rice. Incautiously, as it turned out, he praised this frugality to his own Chinese servant, for the remark reached Li's ears in a distorted form. Next time Sir Robert went there he had to face a grand ceremonial banquet.

"'You shall not have the chance to go away again and say that you have been fed like a cooly in my house,' said the viceroy proudly at the end of the banquet.

"'Nevertheless the very simplicity of your hospitality was what I most appreciated,' Sir Robert replied. 'But if you believe that I could have made any such remark and if you persist in altering the style of my reception I shall not come to lunch with you again.'"

The Room Was Full.

Rev. Daniel Isaacs once alighted at an inn to stay the night. On asking for a bed he was told he could not have one, as there was to be a ball that evening and all the beds were engaged.

"At what time does the ball break up?" asked Mr. Isaacs.

"About 3 in the morning, sir."

"Well, then, can I have a bed until that time?"

"Yes, certainly, but if the bed is asked for you will have to remove."

"Very well," replied Mr. Isaacs, and away he went to get between the sheets.

About 3 in the morning he was awakened by loud knocking at his chamber door.

"What do you want?" he asked.

"How many are there of you in there?" inquired a voice.

"There's me and Daniel and Mr. Isaacs and an old Methodist preacher," was the reply.

"Then there's plenty of you." And the speaker passed on, leaving Mr. Isaacs to enjoy his bed.

Where Women Swim Best.

"The Korean women are the best swimmers in the world," said a life guard. "The Korean pearl diving is in their hands. They swim—they don't boat—they swim out to the pearl fisheries of Quelpart, lugging baskets with them. After this swim of half an hour they dive down fifty feet and fetch up queer one shelled pearl oysters as big as babies. They dive till their baskets are full—the baskets are corked to keep them afloat—and after three or four hours' work they swim back home with their catch. The big one shelled oysters are valuable as pearl mines and as food too. A half dozen Koreans will sit down to an oyster as gayly as you or I sit down to a broiled lobster. Sometimes when the great shellfish is eaten raw it quivers and moans slightly as the knife is plunged into it."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Man and the Lion.

"When I was once in danger from a lion," said an old African explorer, "I tried sitting down and staring at him, as I had no weapons."

"How did it work?" asked his companion.

"Perfectly. The lion didn't even offer to touch me."

"Strange! How do you account for it?"

"Well, sometimes I've thought it was because I sat down on a branch of a very tall tree."

Thin Folks Made Fat.

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food, together with natural action of the organs of assimilation. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food and health restorer. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets, and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Samose does not contain a practicle of starch pepsin, nor is it any nauseating preparation, such as is usually recommended to make people fat, and which does not build up good healthy tissues. Samose has valuable flesh forming properties, tones up and strengthens the whole system, helps the food that is eaten to be assimilated in a natural manner, and absolutely restores health to all the organs.

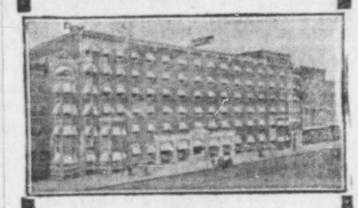
If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Samose, C. M. Parrish will return your money without any quibbling.

Take Notice.

All persons are recommended to take Foley's Kidney Pills for backache, rheumatism, and Kidney and bladder trouble, as they are healing and antiseptic and correct urinary irregulaities which, if neglected, may develop into a serious illness. They restore health and strength. Do not neglect signs of kidney or bladder trouble and risk Bright's disease or diabetes. Sold by C. M. Parrish,

Famous boneless bacon for sale at Sechler's. Try it. tf

WINDSOR HOTEL
W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.
European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up



Midway between Broad Street Station and Reading Terminal on Filbert Street.
The only moderate priced hotel of reputation and consequence in PHILADELPHIA

Surprising, What Kodol Will Do

For you, when you need it. But the longer you neglect Indigestion, the more you will suffer before Kodol can restore Good Digestion.

And, of course, indigestion if neglected long enough, brings on serious diseases in which Kodol cannot benefit you. Some of these there is no help for at all.

There are, in fact, very few ailments which cannot be traced directly to impure blood. And impure blood is always due to a disordered stomach.

Use Kodol and prevent Nervous Dyspepsia.

Kodol will effectually assist Nature to secure a complete restoration of good digestion. It does this by at once digesting all food in the stomach and keeping it digested, until the stomach is rested and can resume its own work. Kodol removes the cause—and the effect quickly removes itself.

When it is recalled that Apoplexy, Heart Disease, Cancer—and even Consumption—are due to poor digestion and poisons thus transmitted to the blood, and throughout the system—the importance of maintaining good digestion is at once realized.

We knew what Kodol would do before ever the first bottle was sold. If we did not know just what it will do, we would not guarantee it the way we do.

It is easy for you to prove Kodol—the next (or the first) time you have an attack of indigestion. And you will certainly be surprised at the results. It is perfectly harmless.

There can be no harm in trying something that may do you a great deal of good—when it costs you nothing if it doesn't.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Sold by all Dealers.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS

for Backache, Rheumatism, Kidney or Bladder trouble, and urinary irregularities. They purify the blood, and restore lost vitality and vigor. Refuse substitutes.

For sale at C M Parrish Drug Store

Colonel John Sneed's Conversations on Domestic Problems

Copyright, 1909, by C. S. Yost.

III.—How to Keep Young.

YOUNG Mrs. Rollins was dressed for the opera when Colonel Sneed, her father, entered. The old gentleman threw up his hands in mock astonishment and chuckled with delight.

"My, my, my, child," he exclaimed, "you look as fine as the queen of Sheba! And I'll bet," he added, "you're a doggone sight prettier. Turn around, honey, and let me get a sort of panoramic view of you."

With an indulgent smile Mrs. Rollins revolved.

"The more I look the better I like it," said the colonel. "But the wrappin' isn't any too good for what's inside of it. And that reminds me that I haven't kissed you yet. You dazzled me so I plum forgot. Kind of turn your cheek up to one side so I won't muss anything. There, now. But—but"—

The colonel was running the end of his tongue over his lips, and there was a puzzled expression on his face.

"What's the matter, papa?" asked Mrs. Rollins, with twinkling eyes.

"The brand don't seem quite familiar," he answered. "What is it, honey?"

"DON'T SEEM QUITE FAMILIAR."

"Oh, it's just a little touch of rouge, daddy; that's all."

"Huh!" grunted the colonel. "I thought so Beginnin' to paint the lily already, are you? Well, I don't take much stock in artificial colors, but I reckon the principle's all right. You see—but, by the way, where's William? Dressin', eh? Just got home? I'm afraid that boy is workin' too hard. Think I'll sit down and chat with you anyhow until he comes down.

"As I was goin' to remark, little girl," resumed the colonel after he had arranged himself comfortably in the big armchair, "I've got some rather peculiar notions about keepin' young. I'm a long ways from being an old man yet, but I've been around here a considerable time, and maybe I can give you some pointers on what every woman wants to know.

"I reckon you've heard that old song about a woman bein' as old as she looks, while a man's just as old as he feels. Well, there's some truth in the distinction, for looks have a whole lot more to do with a woman than a man; but, all the same, it's the feelin' that counts in the long run, and it counts just as much for one sex as it does for the other. You're goin' to be young, honey, just as long as you feel young, and if you feel young the looks will take care of themselves. Now, there's a good deal more in that statement than I can work out for you while William's gettin' into his dress shirt, but it all simmers down to this—that the way to keep young is to quit growin' old. That's what they call a paradox, ain't it? Huh! Well, I don't care what you label it, it's the right formula.

KEEPING YOUNG.

"Of course you understand I'm not talkin' about years; I'm talkin' about looks and feelin's. I've got to admit that time has some influence, but it's only relative. I know a fellow downtown who's thirty-five years old and he acts like he was about ten. There's such a thing as keepin' too doggone young, you know. I've seen women that way too. Then there's another fellow I know who ain't over forty and he's dyin' of old age right now. So you see, honey, the calendar don't count in the game as much as people imagine. It's the looks and feelin's, but principally the feelin's, that make you old or keep you young.

"And you need just two things, little girl, to keep you feelin' young. I've been keepin' them a secret, savin' them for you. One of them is what is called a stiff upper lip; the other's a straight back. One is a mental attitude toward life; the other's a physical condition. A man or a woman with a stiff upper lip don't get discouraged, don't get the blues, don't worry about trifles. When a black cloud comes along she grabs it and turns it around so the silver linin' will show; she finds out what her duty is and does it without kickin' up any fuss about it; she don't make mountains out of molehills nor cross bridges until she gets to them, and if there's any fun goin' on in her neighborhood she's goin' to have her share of it without makin' a fool of herself.

"Now, did you ever see anybody with a straight back who was really old—I mean old in heart and mind? No, siree, you never did. Keep your backbone straight, honey, whatever you do. The minute it begins to sag or bend that very minute old age starts down the road to meet you. It's easy enough to keep it straight now, while your years are few, but after awhile you'll begin to feel like lettin' your shoulders droop, and if you let them do it, why, pretty soon your chest will go in, and your stomach will push out, and the wrinkles 'll begin to multiply. You'll look old, and, what's more, honey, you'll feel old. The backbone was made to support your head, and when the support begins to get wabbly you can't brace up the superstructure with toilet creams.

"MOUNTAINS OUT OF MOLEHILLS."

"Not that I'm against toilet creams; bless your life, no. I believe in a woman lookin' as handsome as she can as long as she can, and when I see one of sixty, as I do every day or so over home, massagin' her neck and rubbin' goose grease, or whatever it is, into her cheeks, why, I glory in her spunk. But—and I want you to get this straight in your mind, honey—if she didn't have a straight back and a stiff upper lip she wouldn't be doin' that sort of thing. When your spinal column begins to droop you begin to quit carin' much about your looks. If you haven't got enough ambition to hold your shoulders back you're not goin' to have enough to rub the crow's feet from the corners of your eyes, and the only thing you can do is to get some red and white paint and cover up the cracks. But paint, my dear, won't keep you young. It's all right in an emergency. I believe every woman ought to have a little paint on her toilet table for use when there are dark circles around her eyes and no color in her cheeks and she's compelled to go out in company—when she's sick, in fact, and don't want to show it; then I think it's all right to put up a good straight bluff. But, honey, don't you get the notion in your head that you've got to swab around with a paint brush every time you go out. No man ever put a color in a jar that was anywhere near as fine as the tints that nature puts in a woman's face, and if she don't keep 'em buried under artificial pigments they'll stay with her as long as she holds herself erect with face to the front and gets all the joy she can out of life. A straight back and a stiff upper lip, little girl, beat all the cosmetics on earth."

"I GLORY IN HER SPUNK."

Going to Church.

There's a million excuses for sleepin' late on Sunday mornin', and none of them's any account. It's just laziness—pure unadulterated laziness. That's what it is. We're all of us lazy, more or less, mostly more, and it's a powerful temptation to loaf in bed until the church bells quit ringin'; but, all the same, children, it's a bad habit to get into.

I ain't a pillar of the church, and I reckon if they was to send out a search party after new deacons I'd be about the last man they'd pick, but I come to the conclusion a long time ago that the church is a mighty good thing to hitch on to, whether you're figurin' on happiness in this world or the next. I don't mean to say that the church 'll carry a man into heaven. Not by a long jump. Anybody can join the church, but gettin' through the pearly gates is a different proposition. Some of the meanest, no 'countest people I ever had any dealin's with belong to the church, and if I thought they had through tickets to the green fields of Eden I'd want to go the other way. But I know they haven't. I know they'll all be brushed off when they try to come under the wire at the finish, and so the things they do and the things they say don't bother me a little bit.

On the other hand, I believe a man or a woman, if they've got the right kind of a disposition and the necessary stiffness of backbone, can worry along through life and get satisfactorily settled in the hereafter without any help from the church. But—and I can't make that "but" too strong—it's only one in a thousand who can do that. The other 999 need some help to keep 'em from wanderin' off the straight-away track that leads to happiness and peace and everything else that's worth having.—Colonel John Sneed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing amendments to sections eight and twenty-one of article four, sections eleven and twelve of article five, sections two, three, and fourteen of article eight, section one of article twelve, and sections two and seven of article fourteen, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and providing a schedule for carrying the amendments into effect.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following are proposed as amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment One—To Article Four, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight of article four of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within three calendar months immediately preceding such election, in which case the election for said office shall be held at the second succeeding general election. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal," so as to read as follows:—

He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office, according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the journal.

Amendment Two—To Article Four, Section Twenty-one.

Section 3. Amend section twenty-one of article four, which reads as follows:—

"The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be four years; of the Auditor General three years; and of the State Treasurer two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms," so as to read:—

The terms of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer shall each be four years and they shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections but a State Treasurer, elected in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine shall serve for three years, and his successors shall be elected at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and in every fourth year thereafter. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

Amendment Three—To Article Five, Section Eleven.

Section 4. Amend section eleven of article five, which reads as follows:—

"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs and townships at the time of the election of constables by the qualified electors thereof, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of five years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district," so as to read:—

Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs or townships by the qualified electors thereof, at the municipal election, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of six years. No township, ward district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district.

Amendment Four—To Article Five, Section Twelve.

Section 5. Amend section twelve of article five of the Constituton, which reads as follows:—

"In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be five years and they shall be elected on general ticket by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished," so as to read as follows:—

In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be six years, and they shall be elected on general ticket at the municipal election, by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished.

Amendment Five—To Article Eight, Section Two.

Section 6. Amend section two of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"The general election shall be held annually on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto," so as to read:—

The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an even-numbered year.

Amendment Six—To Article Eight, Section Three.

Section 7. Amend section three of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"All elections for city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the third Tuesday of February," so as to read:—

All judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough, and township officers for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year.

Amendment Seven—To Article Eight, Section Fourteen

Section 8. Amend section fourteen of article eight, which reads as follows:—

"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service," so as to read:—

District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially, by the citizens at the municipal election; but the General Assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only: Provided, That such laws be uniform for cities of the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service.

Amendment Eight—To Article Twelve Section One.

Section 9. Amend section one, article twelve, which reads as follows:—

"All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law," so as to read:—

All officers, whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, That elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms.

Amendment Nine—To Article Fourteen Section Two.

Section 10. Amend section two of article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"County officers shall be elected at the general elections and shall hold their offices for the term of three years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law," so as to read:—

County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law.

Amendment Ten—To Article Fourteen Section Seven.

Section 11. Amend section seven, article fourteen, which reads as follows:—

"Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five and every third year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled, by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled," so as to read:—

Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter; and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled.

Schedule for the Amendments.

Section 12. That no inconvenience may arise from the changes in the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared that—

In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.

The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February, as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd-numbered year.

All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

A true copy of the Joint Resolution.

ROBERT McAFEE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth

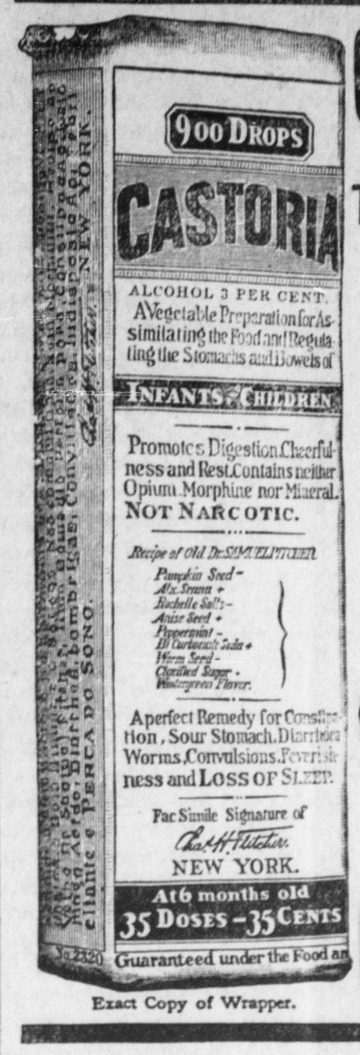
Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Sold by C. M. Parrish.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." It will cure you. Sold by C.M. Parrish.

DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled for anything where salve is needed, but it is especially good for piles. Sold by all druggists.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. It subdues the pain and heals the hurts.



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES - 35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food an Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Professional Cards.

Harry E. Fenlon,
FIRE INSURANCE.
Temple Court, Bellefonte, Pa.

A. A. Dale,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office East High St., first door above Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

H. C. Quigley,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

Harry Keller,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

Clement Dale,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office East High St., first door above Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

J. Thomas Mitchell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

Kodol is for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, sour stomach, or for any stomach trouble. Kodol is very pleasant to take and it acts promptly. It digests all the food you eat, for it is composed of the very same digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach. It is guaranteed to relieve you and is sold here by all druggists.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Bellefonte Republican.

Bellefonte, Pa., October 28, 1909.

CHARLES E. DORWORTH, - Ed., & Pub.

Subscription rate, $1 a year, strictely in advance.

The Republican and the New York Tribune Farmer, $1.50 a year, in advance.

—— Advertising Rates. ——

One Column, 1 year.....$100
One half Column, 1 year.....60
One-quarter Column, 1 year.....35
Legal Notices (if no special contract exists) 10 cents per line, each insertion, nonpareil measure.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

State.

Supreme Court Justice,
JUDGE ROBERT VON MOSCHZISKER, of Phila.

Auditor General,
A. E. SISSON, of Erie.

State Treasurer,
J. A. STOBER, of Lancaster.

County.

Jury Commissioner,
JOHN D. DECKER, of Potter Twp.

Mr. Berry Doing Penance.

"The man hath penance done,
And penance more will do."

Former State Treasurer William H. Berry was in town on Friday last "prodding" the local Democratic leaders to get busy for the Guffey ticket. Coming as the personal agent of Guffey Mr. Berry's missionary work prompted a smile in the Democratic camp. It was also brought home to the local Bryan Democrats what they will be expected to do to regain favor with Guffey once the latter is restored to full possession of the party machinery which will be the case if C. LaRue Munson is elected Supreme Court Justice.

Mr. Berry was a friend of William Jennings Bryan and was slated as a delegate-at-large to the Denver national convention. Guffey was opposed to Bryan. He controlled the convention, refused to allow it to instruct for Bryan and to punish Mr. Berry wiped his name off the slate of delegates.

From the time of the convention down to the present Mr. Berry has been doing penance at the feet of Guffey. He has been endeavoring to undo the past and restore himself to favor in the Guffey machine. He has felt the lash of the Guffey whip and knows what it means to run counter to the orders of the boss. From one end of the State to the other Mr. Berry has been held up to ridicule. In silence he has suffered that he might again be viewed with favor by Guffey.

The explanation of Mr. Berry's penance is that he wants to be a candidate for Governor and he knows that he cannot have the nomination without the consent of Guffey. Hence Mr. Berry's trip to Bellefonte as the agent of Guffey, the man he had the courage to oppose for just about twenty-four hours.

—ELECTION day, Tuesday.

—Vonmoschziskersissonstoberdecker.

—VOTE the straight Republican ticket.

—JIM. GUFFEY nominated Munson for Supreme Court Justice and would PERSONALLY appreciate his election. Wonder why?

—IF you want to encounter a chilly countenance and a marble heart ask pretty nearly any Democrat to be a "nor-partisan" and vote for some Republican.

—MR. MUNSON parades as a "nor-partisan." He is a Democrat, was nominated as a Democrat and his election would be heralded as a Democratic victory.

—INDEPENDENTS who are being urged to vote for Munson should ask themselves why Jim Guffey is so terribly anxious to put Munson on the Supreme Court bench.

—BRYAN Democrats who vote for Munson will vote to restore Guffey to power. With Guffey once firmly intrenched it will be a sorry day for those Democrats who opposed him at Denver.

—SINCE the recent party conventions Judge von Moschzisker has maintained a dignified attitude, showing his deep respect for the Supreme Court. Mr. Munson has been racing over the State personally soliciting votes. Which do you prefer?

—THE "Centre Democrat" is not for Guffey but whoops it up for Guffey's man, Munson. A straight line may be the shortest distance between two given points but it is not the only route for the willing traveler.

—JUST when his friends were hoping he would make no further breaks Mr. Munson added to their mortification by flooding this and other counties with personal letters soliciting votes. Wonderful how fast a man travels down hill, once he gets started.

—"BERRY out for civic righteousness" was the headline in a Democratic newspaper a day or two ago. Last year Berry was out for Bryan and ever since that time Guffey has kept him on the frying pan. That's what Guffey will do to every other Bryan Democrat who gives him the chance.

—THE "certain eminent gentlemen," who voted at Harrisburg for the Seventh Amendment and whose names the "Democratic Watchman" forgot just when it got down to the point of mentioning them, were Democratic State Chairman Dewalt, Senator B. Frank Miller, Senator Rowland, Senator Dimeling and other equally, well known Democrats.

For Republican Victory.

On Tuesday next the Republicans of Centre County determine by their votes whether the county is to continue Republican or temporarily go over to the enemy. Centre County is Republican. The drift for years has steadily and surely been into the Republican column. Shall Tuesday further clinch this or shall the county by default lapse back into the little colony of Democratic centres which are becoming fewer and weaker with each year?

The matter is one solely for Republicans to decide. Democratic victory in the county will be victory by Republican default. This is the plain truth and one which should be pressed home with every Republican voter. Over-confidence has lost many battles; let it not be the cause of Republican defeat this year.

We wish to speak plainly and to the point. There is more to this election than the mere victory for the party ticket. Tuesday's battle at the polls is but the preliminary skirmish of what next year will be the hardest fight the Republicans in the county have witnessed for many a day. The Democrats have not abandoned hope of regaining control. They are playing a silent, waiting game, hoping to succeed by Republican indifference and thus be given renewed courage for the battle of next year. Shall they be allowed to win by default on Tuesday? Shall they be given a fresh start to prepare for 1910? Republicans and Republicans only must decide this all-important question.

The place to decide it will be at the polls and the way to determine it will be by voting the straight Republican ticket.

There is every reason why Republicans should vote on Tuesday and vote the straight ticket. There has not been advanced a single reason why one Republican should remain away from the polls. The party ticket is comprised of clean, honest men. They are making their fight out in the open as Republicans. They are not shifting cards under the table, masquerading as "non-partisans" and adopting other underground methods to deceive the public and catch stray votes.

Heading the Republican ticket is Judge Robert von Moschzisker, the nominee for Supreme Court Justice. Do not allow the mudslinger and the character destroyer to mislead you about this man. We know him. We have known him since the time he was a young lawyer, struggling to fight his way to the top in his profession. We vouch for him. His life is clean. He is honest. He is a type of young man who stands as a shining example to other young men in demonstrating that hard work and strict adherence to the right must conquer. He is able. Despite his youth when he became a Judge in Philadelphia he compelled the admiration of his elders and leaders of the bar by his profound knowledge of the law and his finely balanced judicial mind.

Let us view his course since the recent party conventions. It has been one of dignity, of calm reserve, of perfect poise—everything that would go to show his broad conception of and respect for the high position for which he has been nominated. His entire course tells more eloquently than could be voiced by words that he regards the position of Supreme Court Justice so sacred that it should seek the man and not the man the place.

And of his opponent, Mr. Munson? What a contrast! What more could be needed to convince the voter as to which candidate is to be trusted with that high post? Nowhere in the records of political history in Pennsylvania may be it found that a candidate for Supreme Court Justice so far forgot himself, so completely disregarded all sense of propriety, so effectually trampled upon the dignity one naturally associates with the Supreme Court, as has Mr. Munson, the Democratic nominee. From the day of the Democratic convention at which he was nominated after being slated in advance by Mr. Guffey, the boss of the Democratic machine, Mr. Munson has been tearing about the State in a wild appeal for votes. With a boldness that put the blush of mortification on the cheeks of his home friends he carried his campaigning to the extreme of being the central figure at a demonstration in his honor at the Donnelly & Ryan Democratic City Committee headquarters in Philadelphia. Donnelly & Ryan in personal charge of the Munson candidacy in that city! That act alone was enough to strike terror to the hearts of the Democrats in Pennsylvania who do not defend the Guffey ownership of their party, aided and abetted by Donnelly & Ryan.

Is this the type of man you want to place upon the Supreme Court bench for twenty-one years? If he has done all this in advance of the election, what will be his course once he is given a certificate for almost a quarter of a century and for that period of years placed beyond recall by the people? The question is a proper one and should be weighed in the mind of every voter, whether he be a Republican or a Democrat. Is it safe to elect Mr. Munson?

Our nominees for Auditor General and State Treasurer are honest, upright citizens and loyal Republicans. In the last six weeks the Democratic scandal monger has raked Pennsylvania from one end to the other to find something with which to attack Mr. Sisson and Mr. Stober. In this they have met with dismal failure. Both have been subjected to the limelight of publicity and the closest investigation. They come out of the campaign without a blemish. No Republican need be afraid to cast his vote for Senator Sisson for Auditor General. We have been closely associated with him for the last ten years and are able to vouch for his worth as a citizen and as a Republican. The man does not live who can point a finger to a single dishonest or dishonorable act in Senator Sisson's entire career. His religion is rugged honesty. Without the slightest equivocation or hesitation we predict for him an administration at Harrisburg that will in every respect maintain the high and efficient standard of Auditor General Young. The same is true of Jeremiah A. Stober. He is a plain, every-day business man. Honesty and strict adherence to duty have been his watchword and his success in the business world and spotless record in public life give ample assurance that he will make an admirable State Treasurer.

For Jury Commissioner our candidate is John D. Decker, of Potter township. He is the party nominee and deserves loyal party support. It is important that he receive the vote of every Republican.

As a parting word, let us reiterate our caution against over-confidence. Take nothing for granted. Go to the polls and after you have cast your vote for the straight Republican ticket see that every other Republican vote is brought out. United Republican effort means victory. Failure to vote means defeat.

—DEMOCRATIC State Chairman Dewalt deserves to be taken out behind the woodshed and spanked for voting for the Seventh Amendment at Harrisburg. Wasn't he a wicked fellow; honestly, now, wasn't he?

—THE Democratic party helped pass the Seventh Amendment at Harrisburg in 1907 and again at the recent Legislature, but now is against the same Amendment at the polls. Beware of eleventh hour repentance.

—EVERY Centre County Republican should go to the polls on Tuesday and vote the straight ticket. Don't be fooled by the "non-partisan" buncombe and then be laughed at the next day by the very Democrats who fooled you.

—POOR, old "Democratic Watchman," its against the Seventh Amendment, so it says. Reminds us of the story of the fellow who was asked why he opposed a certain proposition at a congregational meeting. "Well," he replied, "I had to be against something and there wasn't anything else in sight."

—IF you want Jim. Guffey's man on the Supreme Court bench vote for Munson.

—THE fellow who "discovered" that Judge von Moschzisker decided the 2-cent railroad fare law unconstitutional, and the other one who "discovered" that when an Assistant Disirict Attorney von Moschzisker figured in the Salter trial, must wear one and the same the pair of pants. The entire State enjoyed a good laugh over the "discoveries."

He Was.

"Owen Flannagan! Are you Owen Flannagan?" said the clerk of the court.

"Yes, begorra," replied the prisoner, with a merry twinkle in his eye. "I'm owin' everybody!"—London Mail.

Hard Luck.

Old Lady—Poor man! What have you done to your hand? Unemployable—Broke my knuckles, mum, knockin' at people's doors askin' for work.—London Scraps.

Centre County Deaths.

(Continued from first Page.)

MRS. JENNIE STEEL TWITMIRE.

Mrs. Jennie Steel Twitmire, one of the oldest residents of Centre County, died at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening at the home of her son, W. T. Twitmire. She was over 90 years of age, having been born at Martinsburg, Blair county, in 1819. Her husband was the late Joseph Twitmire. Several weeks ago she fell while in the yard and was confined to her room from that time until her death. The funeral will be held today at 2 o'clock, services at the Twitmire residence.

DANIEL GORDON.

The funeral of the late Daniel Gordon was held on last Friday afternoon from the home of his son, J. T. Gordon, of East Beaver Street. Deceased was aged about 72 years and is survived by the following children: Mrs. Wm. Hassinger, John T. and Daniel Gordon, of Bellefonte; Mrs. John Isenberg, of Huntingdon; and W. I. Gordon, of Columbus, Ohio. The funeral was in charge of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, of which the deceased was an honored member.

EDWARD COLE.

After an illness of but one week Edward Cole died at his home at Snow Shoe on Monday. He contracted a cold and pneumonia developed. He is survived by a widow and six small children. Deceased was a hard working man and was held in high esteem by the community in which he lived. He was a member of the Order of Red Men.

A Voice Asking Help.

For "The Republican."

In every community there are men, women and children who cannot be reached by the churches. They do not come to the services, often have not proper clothing, and usually little desire for better things. Often it is that drink keeps them poor and discouraged: most often it is the main cause of the trouble.

But to have them as they are is to foster a condition of things that threatens the community, for out of these homes come the ignorant and vicious who grow up to fill jails and refuges.

Now comes the Salvation Army, a society formed for the very purpose of getting hold of this class, and by charitable methods drawing them to good and wholesome ways. Even those who do not sympathize with all their methods must admit that good has been done; and there are homes that could witness it. This self-denying work—no money or ease for the workers, and little encouragement among those that they benefit.

Work like this cannot be carried on without money. What is there worth while that can be? To pay rent for a dwelling and hall costs money; and the workers must live. Very little money is given, and the present worker, who seems to be a faithful, conscientious man, is braking down under the burden of debt and discouragement. Seeing the lack of response to his efforts and sympathy from the people he will certainly lose heart and give up. It is for our people to say whether this shall be allowed. If so, are we ready to take up the work they have been doing for us?

A LOOKER-ON.

Pretty Home Wedding.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was that last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Strunk, on High street, when Miss Alice A. Johnston, formerly of Zion, but recently residing in Bellefonte, became the wife of Joseph W. Harvey. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Strunk and is an estimable young lady. Mr. Harvey is a baker and is employed at State College.

COPPES—FRIDAY.

A pretty home wedding was that on Wednesday of last week when Miss Wilma Friday, of Philipsburg, became the wife of Irvin D. Coppes, of Nappanee, Ind. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Friday, of Philipsburg. The groom is a Lafayette College man. The happy young couple will make their home in Indiana.

Judgment Reversed.

A middle aged and nervous tenant in an apartment house had summoned his next door neighbor, a young woman student at the conservatory, into court and charged that the peace and quiet of his lodgings had been disturbed by her singing.

The court was inclined to regard the proceedings as unwarranted.

"How much do you sing?" he asked the defendant.

"Only two hours a day," she answered. "An hour in the morning and one at night."

"Two hours!" said the judge. "It appears unreasonable to complain of that."

"But, your honor," interposed the complainant, starting up excitedly, "I trust you will not decide the matter until you have heard the defendant sing."

The defendant was not at all loath to sing. In fact, her personal assurance and professional pride urged her to make the most of this opportunity in the interests of high art.

She began an aria from Wagner, but she had sung but four or five bars when the court interrupted her.

"That will do—that will do," he said. "No further testimony need be taken. The court's judgment is reversed."—Youth's Companion.

JUST A HEADACHE.

Find Out Whether This Malady Is Inevitable In Your Case.

You all know the woman who seems to think that she acquires merit by having a headache.

A headache is her constant companion, and, what's more, if she doesn't actually pride herself in it she cherishes much the same feeling toward it that a martyr does toward her martyr's crown. Martyrdom is not without its compensation of glory, you know, unless it chances to be a self imposed martyrdom or at least a martyrdom to an empty cause.

And there are such among the headache martyrs. The headache martyr is the one who has had headaches so often that she has a headache smile.

"It's just a headache," she says, with a wan smile, as if headaches with her were as much a part of the program as her meals.

If that is the case with this poor sufferer she is greatly to be pitied. There are numberless cases on record where people have had persistent headaches the cause of which has stubbornly baffled the physicians. Such a state of affairs is highly regrettable. But how many women have taken the pains to assure themselves that their headaches are inevitable? This spirit of meek submission to the inevitable, it must be remembered, is only commendable when the inevitable is actually not to be avoided, and a lot of things are called inevitable that have simply never been questioned.

Dr Woods Hutchinson, writing in the Delineator, says:

"Pain wherever found is nature's abrupt command 'Halt!'—her imperative order to stop. When you have taken that step you have taken the most important single step toward a cure.

"A headache always means something"—now mark some of the things he says it may mean—"overwork, underventilation, eye strain, underfeeding. Some error," he adds, "is being committed; some bad physical habit is being dropped into."

So what's the use of pitying the woman with the headache smile if she hasn't at least gone over this simple list of causes and made an effort to adjust the trouble?

"There are a dozen different remedies that will stop pain," says this author, "from opium and chloroform down to the coal tar remedies, but not one of them cures in the sense of doing anything toward removing the cause."

WISE MAN UNDERSTOOD.

Saw Through the Trickery of the People In the Market Place.

A wise man once went to the market place of a town, where a lot of people were buying and selling things, and he called out in a loud voice: "Ho, ho, listen to me, all you people! I have been ordered by the king to collect all the clever people and take them to him, because he wishes to reward them."

All that heard him said they were clever, and they all gathered round, when he called out in a loud voice:

"Ho, ho, you people, listen to me! The king has just sent me word that he means to reward only those who are fools, so only those who are not clever must go with me to the palace."

All the people of the town looked at the wise man, and then one by one they joined him again because, so they said, they were fools.

The wise man shook his head sadly, and he sighed as he said: "Ah, the world goes as the wind blows! Ho, ho, you people, listen to me! You can all go back to the market place as quick as you can, for you first said you were clever and then you said you were not, and you can't be both."

The wise man knew quite well that the people only wanted the reward.

How Sarah Bernhardt Rests.

In a letter to a friend Sarah Bernhardt tells how she spends the days of her vacation in Belle-Isle-en-Mer. The actress says she "rests" by tiring herself. There is a daily schedule. At 5 in the morning she is awakened. After a cup of coffee she takes her gun and goes hunting for birds. At 8 she returns to the house, has a light breakfast and goes to the shore to fish for shrimps. This occupies two hours. At 11 she takes her bath, makes her toilet and is ready for luncheon at 12:30. After luncheon comes the hour for the siesta. This, she observes, is a sacred institution in the routine of her household. One need not necessarily sleep, but the command is to keep still for two hours. At 2:30 she goes to her studio, where she reads manuscripts, looks over her parts or works at her sculpture. The tennis hour is 5 o'clock. Dinner follows the game. After dinner there is music, and by 9 o'clock every one is in bed. In ending her letter Mme. Bernhardt says: "Thus pass my days in Belle Isle. They all are alike. They are charming and splendid. I have a divine sensation of being alive these days more than all the rest of the days of the year."

A Woman's Queer Will.

Dame Margaret Morell Mackenzie, widow of the English throat specialist, has forbidden her children by will to be dismal because she is dead. "When I die," she says in her will, which was recently proved, "I hope my children will wear as little black for mourning as possible. White or mauve I like, but not black. And I hope they will not shut themselves up, but go out among their friends and to places of amusement. I am not afraid of them forgetting me, and I want them to be happy."

Penny-A-Word Column.

Have you something you want to sell? Want to buy something? Need a cook or chambermaid? Is there something you have lost or found? Perhaps you have something to exchange for something else and haven't found the right person to complete the deal. Try an advertisement in this column. Penny-a-word, each insertion. No advertisement accepted for less than 25 cents.

Houses For Sale—I have two houses for sale, in Milesburg Borough; one for $700 and one for $500, on easy terms. Much better inducements for cash.

L. C. BULLOCK, JR.,
8-19-tf Overseer-of-the-Poor.

Male Help Wanted: $12.50 buys $105.00 worth goods, free advertising to sell them and starts you as Mgr. for big Chicago mail order house. $60.00 expense allowance first month. Address President, 1200 State St., Chicago.

Female Help Wanted—Any lady can easily make from $18.00 to $25.00 per week working for me quietly in her own home locality. This is a bonafide offer—one which will pay you to investigate, even if you can only spare two hours per day. No investment required. Turn your spare time into money. Write me at once for particulars. Address Harriet M. Richards, Box 30, Woman's Building, Joliet, Illinois.

Wanted—Young men to learn automobile business by mail and prepare for positions as chaffeurs and repair men. We make you expert in ten weeks; assist you to secure position. Pay big; work pleasant, demand for men great; reasonable; write for particulars and sample lesson. Empire Automobile Institute, Rochester, N. Y.

Do you have the dark brown taste in your mouth every morning when you awake? If so, you are bilious and should take two or three of those little BLOODINE LIVER PILLS, easy to take, never sicken, weaken or gripe, 25c mailed by The Bloodine Co., Inc. Boston, Mass.

You need not have Dyspepia or Indigestion, nor do you need to be troubled in any way with your stomach, if you will simply take Kodol at those times when you feel that you need it. Kodol is guaranteed to relieve you. If it fails your money will be refunded to you by the druggist from whom you purchased it. Kodol digests all the food you eat. It is pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

A Startling Hat.

A lady's hat which would no doubt create as great a sensation today as it did at the time of its first appearance in 1352 was that worn by Blanche de Bourbon, queen of Castile, wife of Peter the Cruel. It cost £35 and was made in Paris. The hat itself was composed of de chypre and relieved with great pearls, garnets and enamel work. Children, carved in the whitest of ivory, were depicted picking acorns of pearls from the oak and scattering them to the swine below. Birds were singing in the trees, and at the foot were bees stealing honey from the flowers springing up from the verdure.

Fresh Air For Sleeping.

A person requires twenty cubic inches of fresh air at each respiration, or on an average of 400 per minute, and in ten hours' sleep he consumes 130 cubic feet of air. The air of a bedroom ten feet square, having its doors and windows closed and occupied by one person, would become unfit for respiration in four hours. In the case of two occupants the time would, of course, be reduced to two hours.—New York American.

Sealed Proposals.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA,
STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Sealed proposals will be received by the State Highway Department of Pennsylvania, under the Act approved May 1st, 1905, for the construction of 6,962 feet of road, extending from the northern borough line on Linn Street to Allegheny Street, and on Bishop Street from Allegheny Street to the eastern borough line, 4,984 feet (macadam) and extending from Linn Street to Bishop Street, on Allegheny Street, 1,978 feet (brick paving,) in Bellefonte Borough in the county of Centre. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the county commissioners, Bellefonte, and at the office of the State Highway Department, Harrisburg, Pa. Bidding blanks will be furnished by the State Highway Department upon request. Bids must be endorsed "PROPOSALS FOR RECONSTRUCTION OF ROAD IN BELLEFONTE BORO, CENTRE COUNTY," and received at the office of the State Highway Department not later than November 22, 1909.

And will be publicly opened at 10 a. m. the following day.

JOSEPH W. HUNTER,
10-28-4t State Highway Commissioner

Auditor's Notice.

In the matter of the Estate of Peter Durst, late of Centre Hall Borough, deceased.

The undersigned, an Auditor appointed by the Orphans' Court of Centre County, to distribute the balance in the hands of Clement Dale Administrator d. b. n. c. t. a. arising from the personal estate of said decedent, as shown by said Administrator's first and partial account, to and among those legally entitled to receive the same, will meet the parties interested for the purpose of his appointment on Tuesday, November 9th, 1909, at 10 o'clock A. M., at his law offices in Temple Court, Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, when and where all parties interested are required to make and prove their claims, or be debarred from coming in upon said fund.

HARRY KELLER,
10-14-3t Auditor.

Bellefonte Markets.

Corrected Weekly by John Meese, Grocer

Eggs, per dozen	.30
Butter, per pound	.30
Lard, per pound	.13
Tallow, per pound	.04
Potatoes, per bushel, new	.60
Onions, yellow, per bu	.75

Bellefonte Grain Market.

As corrected last night by Gamble, Gheen & Co.

Wheat, Red	$1.10
Wheat, White	1.05
Corn, Shelled (per bu.)	.70
Corn, ears (per bu.)	.70
Oats, old (per bu)	.40
Oats, new (per bu)	.40
Rye (per bu.)	.70
Barley (per bu.)	.50
Buckwheat, (per bu.)	.60

Our County at a Glance.

Pine Grove.

Have you ever visited Pine Grove Mills? If not you have missed seeing one of the nicest and cleanest little towns in Central Pennsylvania. Its people are hospitable, genial and of the kind that makes one glad to know his neighbors. The air here is entrancing and the water is pure. One might travel many miles and not find a place with so many attractive features to make life happy.

A number of engineers are here surveying State lands.

Mrs. William Martz and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Musser are on the sick list.

Nathan Dale, the general representative for Randolph & Tate's large furniture store, was at Scotia this week.

Miss Jennie Harper has returned to Philadelphia after spending six weeks at home recuperating from an attack of diphtheria.

Miss Maude Decker came down from Altoona for a few days. She is employed as a milliner in Mrs. Black's large store on Eleventh Avenue.

Frank Gates made a flying trip to Bellefonte on Saturday. It will be remembered that he has a large stock sale advertised for Nov. 3.

Mrs. J. C. Meyers, from the Branch, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Peters.

J. I. Reed, one of Ferguson's influential Republicans, accompanied by Mrs. Reed, visited Bellefonte on Wednesday.

Miss Mary Woods has returned to her home on Main Street after spending two months in Detroit with her brother Walter, and family. Walter is the representative for a large medical book publishing house. He expects to work through Canada during the next few months.

J. I. Markle spent a few days with his family. Mr. Markle is an employee of the P. R. R. Co. at Bellwood and was not given a vacation during the panic. This speaks well for his efficiency.

Charles Goss is visiting his sister, Dr. E. G. Smiley, at Altoona, this week.

Walter Obry and Mrs. W. A. Collins were State College visitors on Monday.

Mrs. Daniel Miller is not in good health at this writing.

Ray Albert, while playing at school several days ago, had the misfortune to sprain his arms.

County Commissioner John Dunlap registered at the St. Elmo on Monday. He was delivering ballots for next week's election.

James A. Decker, after spending a month in Maryland and Virginia closing up a large coal deal has returned home.

Emory C. Johnson has just signed a contract to be General Agt. for the National Mutual Relief Association in Centre County. The above named company is to be congratulated on securing the services of Mr. Johnson to look after their large and increasing business.

Mrs. Mary Wright and daughter, Margaret, spent a few days at the home of W. K. Corl, superintending a large apple butter cooking.

Rebecca Ard and her daughter, Mrs. Goss, left for an extended visit to Altoona, Tyrone and Houtzdale, where her son, C. H. Goss, is a contractor.

Martin Foster, wife and two little girls, are spending a week at the Decker home on Main Street.

Mrs. Chas. Martz is down at Mackeyville, spending a week with her son, Oscar, who is a successful miller at that place.

Mrs. Jacob Kepler and daughters, Sarah and Florence, made a business trip to Bellefonte on Saturday.

R. J. Packwood and family, from Sunbury, visited at the home of Dr. G. H. Woods over Sunday.

Rev. John Housman and wife, of Altoona, are visiting friends in the valley.

Will Keichline, of Bellefonte, took a spin on Sunday in his auto to Altoona and on his return trip tarried a short time with his uncle George, who is nursing a broken leg.

Last Thursday's mail brought a shower of post cards to the Mallory home to remind the man of the house, Thomas, of his birthday anniversary.

Harry Shugert, one of our successful farmers, has rented a farm near Altoona, where he will mix dairying with farming next season.

Daniel Irvin moved to his new possession, at Baileyville, last Thursday.

Daniel M. Felty and family, with a party of friends from Altoona, are enjoying a week's outing among old acquaintances in the valley.

Last Wednesday Grandmother Margaret Danley celebrated her 80th birthday anniversary at her home, on Main Street. The old dame is quite hale and hearty and had many callers during the day and many old-time reminiscences were exchanged.

George Bell and wife, of Spruce Creek, spent Sunday at the J. W. Sunday home, on Main Street.

George Dale and Mrs. W. S. Bailey are among the sick.

Miss Anna Gummo is teaching the Rishel school during the illness of the regular teacher.

Young Albert Whitmer, while playing at school, jumped on a passing buggy, getting his leg entangled in the hind wheel and breaking the left one and badly twisting the other. Dr. Kidder reduced the fracture and the little fellow is doing nicely.

Mrs. Margaret Henry was last Friday discharged from the Roaring Springs hospital and is very much improved.

Our jolly huckster last week shipped three car loads of apples to the west.

Jacob Herman had the misfortune to lose another horse on Monday. While driving it, the horse stumbled and fell and had to be shot.

James Kustabarder has rented the Whitmer farm at Shilo and will take possession April 1, next. Boyd Williams is to succeed him on the Mitchell farm, so rumor says.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Nearhood, of Altoona, are visiting friends at Pine Hall.

Mrs. J. F. Kimport spent the beginning of the week with relatives at Juniata and Altoona.

I. J. Dreese, of Lemont, was in town on Friday in the interest of the J. B. Ard estate.

Mt. Eagle

Elmer Gettig, who has been home nursing a sore foot for a week or ten days, returned to work on Monday morning.

Theodore Leathers, mail carrier from Curtin on Route No. 1, was a visitor to Bellefonte on business last Monday.

E. H. Leathers has broken ground for his new handle factory on the Boney tract, just below the station.

Mrs. Martha Packer is erecting a new fence in front of her residence, giving things in general a fine appearance. Mr. Bitner has charge of the work.

Miss Alice Dunkle departed on Tuesday for State College where she expects to be employed during the winter.

Mrs. Smeltzer and Miss Smoyer combined business and pleasure on a trip to Howard on Tuesday.

Corporal Wm. H. Musser, of Bellefonte, was a Mt. Eagle visitor on Tuesday and took supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pheasant.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smeltzer were business visitors to Bellefonte on the noon train on Wednesday.

Earl Leathers is busy hauling lumber from Shup's mill, up at Kennedy, for his new handle factory.

Wm. Butz visited Bellefonte on business one day last week.

Mrs. Clara McCalen, of Howard, visited her son here on Friday of last week.

Mrs. John Barger, of Curtin, who was Miss Stella Bittern, spent Friday of last week with her parents on the farm at Kennedy.

The new school house is completed and school opened on the 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deitz were passengers to Bellefonte on the Sunday morning train. They visited Mr. Deitz's brother-in-law, Mr. Gramley.

Mrs. McMutrie, of the Hotel Howard, spent Sunday evening with Mt. Eagle friends. Come again.

Miss Fisher and her brother visited their sister, Mrs. Wm. Tice, on Sunday.

The Kennedy M. E. church will be closed for two weeks while repairs are being made.

Centre Hall.

Miss Ella Bottorf, of Lemont; Mrs. Julia Musser, of Pine Grove, and granddaughter, Miss Grace Musser, of Ladysmith, Wis., spent a few days with Mrs. Jacobs.

Josh Mitchell, of Jeanette, is visiting in town.

Mrs. M. Richard has moved from the Fleisher home to the Emerick property on Main street.

Leslie Shearer and brother George, had good luck in bagging each a wild turkey, but report them being very poor.

Wm. B. Mingle, the banker, had luck in bagging a large grey squirrel.

Dr. Leib, of Spring Mills, has purchased the driving horse of Rev. Snyder, to haul him from his home to the farm, one half mile east of Centre Hall.

Mr. Weaver, of Lock Haven, was in town looking for a house to move his family here. He is a half-brother to Irvin Showers, the lumberman.

Miss Anna Henney, of Latrobe, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Henney, on Church street.

Miss Maud Emerick has gone to visit her brother L. G. Emerick, manager of the Company store at Mahaffey.

Howard Runkle hauled a load of potatoes to Yeagertown for merchant Emery, prices being better there.

Two deer were last week seen in Thomas' corn field, back of State College. Mountain inhabitants claim deer now more plentiful than ever.

W. Gross Mingle has purchased a piano for his wife. It is a very good instrument and the latest model.

Harry Fye intends having sale of farm stock and moving to Centre Hall April 1. He farms the Luse farm, east of town.

Irvin Musser spent a few days in Harrisburg last week.

Wm. Ruhl, the Spring Mills liveryman, was in Centre Hall trying to buy a couple horses to replace two he lost by death lately.

Blanchard.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Butler.

Nathan Kunes and wife left for Virginia, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Dean Fredericks is spending several weeks with her aunt, Mrs. John Shaw.

Walter Davy, one of our successful nimrods, bagged a fine wild turkey and three nice wild ducks on Monday last.

Eber Huntington moved into the house of Henry Clark. Irvin Fravel, its formor occupant, has moved into the house owned by Ed. Knarr.

Miss Anna Bechdel has returned to her home after an extended visit through Washington, Nevada and other western states.

Mrs. Joseph Miller, of Gleasonton, visited with friends here last week

Howard.

At a recent meeting of Lick Run lodge I. O. O. F. the following officers were installed by District Deputy George S. Graham, of State College, for the current term: N. G., J. T. Leathers; R. S., John Boney; L. S., Charles Yearick; V. G., A. D. Gladhill; R. S., Balser Weber; L. S., Charles Lucas; P. G., J. C. Weirick; warden, James Kane; conductor, Henry Kline; R. S. S., Leonard Confer; L. S. S., George Davy; J. G., W. B. Henderson; O. G., Chester A. Moore; Cor. secretary, Harry Jenkins; financial secretary, John Weber, trustees, A. Weber, John Schenck, H. A. Moore; Chaplain, A. A. Pletcher, representative to Grand Lodge, Chester A. Moore. At the conclusion of the installation delightful refreshments were served by Caterer Charles H. Lucas.

The first annual report of the First National Bank of Howard shows that this young financial institution is a flourishing enterprise and that it has been well managed. The report shows that the bank's earnings for the year were 8 per cent, which sets at naught the cry that a bank would not pay in Howard.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve chicken and waffles in the Kline store room Saturday evening. You are invited to come in time for supper.

Mrs. I. W. Buck, of Millheim, is assisting her husband here for a short time during his fall rush of tailoring.

At the meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Evangelical church at the home of Mrs. Fannie Boon last Tuesday evening the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. L. Holter; vice-president, Mrs. J. B. Holter; Secretary, Mrs. F. S. Dunham; Assistant sec'y., Mrs. Clara Schenck; treasurer, Mrs. J. Z. Loder.

A. A. Schenck and W. N. Neff attended court at Lock Haven last week as witnesses.

Jackson Kline has added 8 inches to the width of his walk in front of his store on Walnut street in order that it may be made to conform to the ordinance regulating the width of walks along that thoroughfare, of which Mr. Kline had no knowledge at the time the walk was laid.

Mrs. Della Malone, of Snow Shoe, was the guest of her sister Mrs. C. H. Pletcher last week.

The County Commissioners were in town last week looking after the erection of a election house for the use of the township voters at the iron bridge west of town.

The I. O. O. F. encampment at Lock Haven last week was attended by quite a few of the members of the order and citizens from this place.

The many friends of Robert Vorhis, former pitcher for the Howard base ball team, extend greetings and best wishes in the event of his marriage to Miss Effie Budinger last week.

G. O. Gray, the insurance agent of Bellefonte, stopped off here a while last week on his way from the I. O. O. F. encampment at Lock Haven.

Mrs. Caroline Comerford has closed her summer residence here and departed on Wednesday for East Liberty. Her daughter, Mrs. Buck, left on the same day for her home at Tunnel Siding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heverly, of Clearfield, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Sarah Heverly.

Mrs. Mollie Williams left on Friday for her home in West Virginia.

Irvin Cheesman, of Altoona, was a visitor in town last week.

The bank will hereafter be heated with steam, the radiators having been placed this week. The steam will be furnished from the plant in the Charles H. Lucas store, adjoining the bank.

John DeHaas, of Milton, was a guest among his Howard friends last week.

William I. Gordon, of Columbus, Ohio, who was called to Centre County last week by the death of his father, visited on Friday at the home of his wife's parents, Capt. and Mrs. H. C. Holter.

Horace Schenck was on a sporting tour to Bellefonte last Saturday.

Charles Bowes left on Monday for Elmira, N. Y.

Mrs. Alfred Lucas and daughter, of Tyrone, were guests of Howard friends last week.

Ward Daughenbaugh, of Mt. Eagle, was a Saturday visitor in town.

Mrs. J. B. Leathers and Samuel B. Leathers, one of Mt. Eagle's aged citizens, were guests of friends here on Saturday.

Dr. O. W. McEntire returned on Saturday from Philadelphia, to which city he had taken several patients for treatment in the hospital.

The friends of David McMonigal, of Howard, were pained to hear of his sad and untimely death at Bellefonte Saturday evening. Mr. McMonigal was a sawyer for the Howard Lumber company.

Miss Corilla Thomas visited her sister at Owego over Sunday. Her brother Hunter took them by surprise later.

The extra section hands on the Pennsylvania railroad have been laid off indefinitely.

Mrs. M. H. Holter and son, of Rochester, N. Y., are visiting her mother Mrs. Marius Miner.

Harry Jenkins left on Monday for Pittsburg.

John Fox left on Tuesday for his home in St. Louis.

Harry Hoffman and Mr. Boring, of Philadelphia, are visiting friends here and enjoying their annual hunt among the Centre county hills.

A. M. Butter, our good neighbor just north of the borough line, has put up a stiff fight and warded of a threatened attack of typhoid fever.

Painful and serious indeed was the sad accident that befell Lester Bowes, one of our stalwart and industrious young men at Rochester, N. Y. While at his work a steel splinter was thrust into his eye, completely ruining the sight of that member.

The continuous rains of the past week have done much to replenish the streams, springs and wells before the winter season sets in.

Millheim.

Ex-Sheriff Cyrus Brungard, of Centre Hall, was in town a few days last week looking after the repairs to the meat market.

T. E. Geist, of Reading, had business here last week.

J. F. Herman, D. Paul Fortney and W. B. Rankin were seen on our streets last week.

One of the heaviest storms of this season visited this vicinity on Friday night of last week; terrific peals of thunder and vivid flashes of lightning, accompanied by rain, hail and sleet.

Calvin Huss, the moving picture man, gave two entertainments in the town hall to crowded houses last week. He comes here every four weeks, with new pictures.

S. Slagle, of State College, the spectacle man, attended to his duties here a few days ago.

D. B. Tate, G. O. Stump and A. Barger, of Bellefonte, employees of the Bell Telephone company, were here last week, looking after the interests of said company.

A new concrete walk was put down at the residence of J. H. Hoffman and Miss Lizzie Keen on Main street.

John J. Way, of Stormstown, passed through town on his way to Wilkes-Barre.

Morris From, H. P. Robb, S. L. Ricker and son, and C. H. Dougal, of Lock Haven; Charles Leitzel of Spring Mills, and E. E. Herlacher, of Loganton, registered at the National recently.

A. C. Leathers, of Howard, the real estate man, transacted business here last week.

Howard Fetteroff and C. Asher Stahl, of Centre Hall, had business here recently.

Miss Lide Musser, a nurse at the Bellefonte hospital, was in town for a day or two at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Musser, on Main street. She returned to her duties on Monday. Miss Musser is well spoken of as a competent nurse.

Charles A. Sturgis, one of Watsontown's progressive citizens, was in town over Sunday as a guest at the home of A. Walter. Mr. Sturgis was a former resident of this borough—the same Charley as of old. He was warmly greeted by his many friends.

Unionville.

Fisher's cider mill is again in running order after three weeks intermission for repairs.

Jacob Fox spent Saturday and Sunday with friends here. He is looking well, and says that Mrs. Fox is happy and contented in their new home at Mill Hall. He is teaching and says that his work there is more orduous than in the Unionville schools. Mrs. Owen Underwood is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Fox, at present.

Mrs. Martha Harris, formerly Miss Martha Reynolds, of National City, California, whose home was orginally in the East, has been visiting friends here for about three months and will return soon to her home in the west.

The protracted service is still in progress, and a few persons have professed salvation. On last Sunday evening the church was well filled. Miss Laura Rumbarger sang a very pretty selection and after the sermon was over Mr. Oyler sang a beautiful solo. His little daughter accompanied him in the chorus from the room below, which made it very impressive. Her's was to represent an Angel's voice saying, "Come this way Papa I'm looking for you."

The Presbyterian church was closed all day last Sunday and everybody went to the M. E.

Mrs. Almeda Thompson, of Johnstown, is visiting with her sisters, Mrs. Henchy and Mrs. Griest, and her brother, Dr. Russel.

Our photographer, Mr. Harry Stere, will soon take down his tent on the Campus, where he takes such excellent photographs, and go to the mountains, to hunt for two or three weeks.

Victor Wagner will sell some fine horses and cattle at the Dr. Blair farm, near the Allegheny mountains next week.

Mr. Lambert has purchased the blacksmith shop from Harry Lindemuth and will take possession next week.

Wm. F. Fisher has purchased a fine home at Bloomfield, New Jersey, where he and his family are comfortably located and the children are attending school.

Mrs. Marion Russel and her little daughter, Agnes, have gone to Philadelphia to sojourn for some time with Dr. Eddie Russel. They will be much missed here by their many friends.

Woodward.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Klinger and child, from Manhattan, Ill., were visitors in town a few days last week.

The stork passed through town last week and left a baby girl at the home of Harry Stover.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Slifer, from Lewisburg, are visitors at the home of J. B. Ard.

Herb. Hosterman and Bruce Stover, from State College, visited with their parents on Saturday and Sunday.

Alice Stineling, from Union County, spent the greater part of last week with her mother.

Mrs. James VonNeida was to Aaronsburg on Saturday.

Miss Mary Snyder entertained some friends from Millheim on Sunday.

C. L. Reinhart is on the sick list.

Fred Limbert, wife and child, from Altoona, are visiting the lady's parents, Thos. Smith's.

Mrs. Marie Messimer, after spending a week with friends at Spring Mills, returned to her home on Saturday.

Lee and Norman Hosterman, from Centre Hall, were in town on Sunday. They returned home Monday morning accompanied by D. J. Benner and wife.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE

There is Nothing More Useful in the House than a Good Liniment.

Rheumatism, Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat or a dozen different things for which a good liniment comes handy is liable to come to someone every day--A prompt application may save much suffering--Our "WHITE CAMPHOR LINIMENT" fills the bill completely--It does the work quickly and effectively and costs only 25c--Try it.

SOLD ONLY AT

GREEN'S PHARMACY CO.

The Rexall Store

BELLEFONTE - PA.

Pearly Teeth, Fragrant Breath is what "Green's Aromatic Tooth Wash" gives you--25c the bottle.

Mohannon.

Wanted—more dwelling houses in our town.

John Hockenberry moved this week from J. T. Lucas' house, on Park street, to the house recently vacated by Simon Hazzard, and Chas. Guenot, of Frenchville, has gone to housekeeping in the house vacated by Mr. Hockenberry.

Burton Hazzard arrived home this week from the western states and Canada, where he has been for several months traveling with a circus. He was much surprised at the changes during his absence and to find that his people had moved away from their home at this place.

Arch Williams, of Clymer, Pa., visited at the home of his mother here a short time lately.

Quite a number of our citizens attended the Reese sale at the "top of the mountain" on Friday last.

Alonza Grove, having recently purchased the Howard property, is having a new roof put on the same and will give it other needed repairs in order to make it rentable.

Allen Hazzard, of Clarence, was circulating among some of his acquaintances here on Saturday.

A very interesting and amusing entertainment was given in the grammar school room on Tuesday evening by Mr. Crawford, of Williamsport, an elocutionist of no little experience and popularity. He surely is "on to his job" and can entertain an audience to perfection.

Another wedding is looked for soon in our community. Boys keep a lookout and have your instruments ready.

Eva McGowan, who is employed at Snow Shoe, Sundayed at the home of her parents here.

Runville.

Jacob Lucas and Charles Poorman have gone to Punxsutawney where they have secured employment on the railroad.

Mrs. Allen Isger and two sons, of Monongahela City, are visiting the former's parents, Henry Irvin and wife.

Don't forget the two sales, that of Forden Walker, Nov. 11th, and John Lucas, Nov. 6th.

Elsie Bottorff, of Snow Shoe, spent Sunday with her parents.

Clara Iddings is the guest of her father, J. M. Harnish, of Wingate.

Eva Lucas and wife, of Altoona, spent Thursday night of last week at the home of Charles Lucas and family.

Hunters have begun to flock into our town by the score and more are expected in a few days. Reports are that game is very scarce on the mountains surrounding the valley.

Mrs. Ada Resides, of Tyrone, has moved her household goods in with her mother, Mrs. Beulah Kunes.

The calithumpian band turned out Friday night and serenaded Joseph Witherite and bride. The wedding bells are tolling for another happy event, so boys be ready.

Howard Watson has returned home from Medix Run.

Hello! Snow Shoe scribe. Listen for a moment. We have decided to change your name from "Peggy" to "Rip Van Winkle" until you get awake. Do you have objections? Answer.

Mr. Irvin, one of Altoona's business men, was seen on our streets last week.

Fowler.

We are having beautiful weather.

Mrs. Henry Newman spent a day with her mother, at Bald Eagle.

J. T. Beckwith on Monday entertained guests from Altoona, Bellwood, Tyrone, Julian and Bellefonte.

Mrs. J. T. Fowler entertained friends several days ago.

Edward McMonigal is all smiles. A big baby boy has come to his house to stay. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

The funeral of D. F. McMonigal at Mt. Pleasant, on Monday, was largely attended.

Mrs. Scott Johnson is quite ill.

Mrs. Harry Lewis entertained her brother-in-law, Wilbur and wife over Sunday.

Too Attentive.

"People who write begging letters are entirely too persistent," said a charity official. "They remind me of a summer resort episode. A young man went there for his two weeks' vacation. He put up at a cottage. He paid about $9 a week. Well, when he came to depart this young man said to the boarding mistress:

"'Madam, you have been most attentive to me during my stay here.'

"'Thank you, sir; thank you very much,' said the lady.

"'Yes,' continued the young man, 'you have been most attentive, and not only you, but everybody—everybody in the house, if I may say so—has been most perseveringly attentive to me day and night, and, madam, to show my appreciation I am going to offer you a small present.'

"'How very kind!' said the landlady, and a bright, expectant smile lit up her face. Then the young man thrust into her extended hand a packet of insect powder and retired hastily."

A Cod Liver Oil Fiend.

"When I was anaemic," said a pale man, "I took cod liver oil. I had a careless habit of leaving the oil uncorked, and it began to disappear. Some one was drinking it. There was a cod liver oil fiend in the house. I decided to trap the thief," he went on, gazing thoughtfully at his large white feet, "and one night I purposely drank two cups of black coffee so as to keep awake. Gentlemen, you will hardly believe what happened. The thief was a rat—a big, sleek, fat rat. The oil, I guess, had agreed with him. As I watched him from the bed he leaped silently on to the bureau, dipped his tail in the bottle, lifted it out and licked it clean, and then dipped and licked it again and again till a good two inches of the oil was gone."—Exchange.

Trees That Explode.

All lightning blasted trees explode as overcharged boilers do. The flame of the lightning does not burn them up, nor does the electric flash split them like an ax. They simply explode, overcharged, as may be a boiler with steam. The lightning is conducted into the damp interstices of the trunk and into the hollows under the bark. Its tremendous heat at once turns all the moisture in those cramped spaces into steam. This steam in its immediate explosion blows the tree asunder.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The First Day Out.

Steward—Did you ring, sir? Traveler—Yes, steward, I—I rang. Steward—Anything I can bring you, sir? Traveler—Yes, st-steward. Bring me a continent, if you have one, or an island—anything, steward, so l-lul-long as it's solid. If you can't, sus-sink the ship.—London Tit-Bits.

Pleasure.

Some men move through life as a band of music moves down the street, flinging out pleasure on every side through the air to every one far and near that can listen.—Henry Ward Beecher.

At the Bookstore.

Unattractive Spinster—Can you get me "A Man to Love?" Bashful Clerk—Er—ah, you might ask the gentleman at the next counter.—Uncle Remus' Magazine.

God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it.—Webster.

UNVEIL PENNA. SHAFT AT COLD HARBOR, VA.

Gov. Stuart Accepts Monument in Behalf of State.

BLUE AND GRAY UNITED

Gather Amid Scenes of Peace to Pay Tribute to Those Whose Blood Helped to Remake the Union--Magnificent Procession of Troops.

Where forty-five years ago they had participated in General Grant's terrific onslaught of 103,000 fighting men on Lee's scant 65,000 troops in a vain endeavor to move on to Richmond, 500 survivors of seventy-nine Pennsylvania regiments, artillery, cavalry and infantry last week witnessed the unveiling of a monument at Cold Harbor, Va., to those who remained after the battle smoke had cleared away as part of the price of war.

In that famous conflict there fell and died more than have fallen in a battle in any of the foreign wars of England, from the battle of Hastings down to the present time. The State of Pennsylvania lost more men in the historic conflict than any other State north of the Mason line, as did North Carolina, among the States south of that line of demarkation.

The unveiling was amid scenes of peace, the blue and gray together, each joining hands to pay tribute to those whose blood had helped to remake the Union. As the veil, under the guiding hands of Mrs. Juliet White Watson, daughter of Colonel Richard, White, late colonel of the Fifty-fifth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, fell away from the inscription a great cheer went up from the throats of the united veterans of both sides.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting away from Cold Harbor. After marching, five hundred strong, from Murphy's Hotel, under the escort of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' band, to the Southern depot and arriving at Fair Oaks, or Seven Pines, as the place is known in battle lore, the visitors and local people went the rest of the way either on foot or in carriages and farm wagons.

The long procession was led by the carriage of Governor Stuart, of Pennsylvania, with his staff, and followed by the official family of Governor Swanson, of Virginia. A death in his family prevented Governor Swanson from attending, but the members of his staff were all in line. The oficial party were seated, the others standing. The ceremonies were presided over by Captain C. F. Gamlich, of Philadelphia, who in a few words made known the occasion which had brought the veterans together. The opening prayer was delivered by Rev. John W. Sayres, of Pennsylvania Chaplain of the G. A. R.

The presentation address was made by F. D. Bricker, of the Pennsylvania Cavalry, brevet major United States Volunteers. Major Bricker was a member of the Monument Commission.

In a characteristic speech Governor Stuart accepted the monument in behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. His words were few. He declared that it was a gracious thing that a monument to Pennsylvania soldiers should be erected on Virginia soil and proclaimed it as a heritage for the people of both Commonwealths, saying that he felt assured it would be as well protected in Virginia as though it were erected in Pennsylvania.

"Virginians," he said, "and their children, and their children's children, will see here where Pennsylvania soldiers offered their services and will look upon this monument as standing for patriotism and heroism, as much as do their own monuments. It stands for the highest type of Pennsylvania manhood and American patriotism."

The Governor was followed by General George B. Davis, Judge Advocate General of the United States Army. Colonel Eugene C. Massie, of Governor Swanson's staff, welcomed the veterans in a hospitable speech.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any propositions made by his firm. WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price, 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists, Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

RAILROAD FARMING

Experimental Work Results in Better Seeds and Crops.

Railroad farming received the stamp of approval this year in New York when the two experimental farms operated by the Long Island Railroad Company received twenty-four first, twenty-three second, and six third prizes at the Riverhead Fair, The American Institute of New York City and the Huntingdon Horticultural and Agricultural Society Exhibit. The exhibits shown this year evidenced the fact that Long Island farmers are adopting modern scientific practices which, until the Long Island Railroad established its experiment stations, had never been used on East Long Island.

In August, 1905, President Ralph Peters of the Long Island Railroad, purchased 17 acres of waste land at Wading River, known as "Experimental Station No. 1," and in August, 1906, the Railroad purchased 70 acres at Medford, known as "Experimental Station No. 2." The trees and underbrush were cleared off the 17 acres at Wading River and 10 acres of the 70 at Medford, and demonstration farms which today are known throughout the country, began their existance. The old settlers poked fun at the railroad officers, called them "book farmers," and said that nothing could be grown on land "good only for 'salt ponds' and 'pine barrens.'" At that time antique methods were used by the farmers on the east end of Long Island and the crops produced were poor. County fairs drew small crowds, and the agricultural exhibits were scarce and inferior.

The fair at Riverhead this year had a record attendance, and the exhibit floor space was greatly overtaxed. The grade of the products displayed gave evidence of the fact that Long Island farmers have been converted to the necessity for spraying their plants to prevent insects and diseases. Dynamite manufacturers showed how the practice of pulling stumps out of the land by horsepower was a relic, and that the labor saving method used by the Long Island Railroad in clearing its farms had been adopted by Long Island farmers generally.

At the Riverhead Fair it developed that, through the efforts of the Long Island Railroad Experimental Stations in exploiting the agricultural possibilities of Long Island, hundreds of settlers had moved to that section. Some had come from Connecticut and Massachusetts, others from Vermont, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Texas, Nebraska, Oregon, California, Ohio, Illinois, and Virginia.

Almost every kind of vegetable was included in those with which the railroad's experimental stations won prizes this year. Watermelons, potatoes, squash, red cabbage, wax beans, swiss chard, okra, kale, peppers, sprouts, onions, cucumbers, and plums, grown on "waste" land that has only been under cultivaliou three years, took first prizes. Grapes and peaches, as well as many varieties of plants, which, until the railroad farms produced them, had never before been grown on Long Island, brought other awards.

The exhibits at the County Fairs on Long Island this year gave evidence of the very results for which the railroad has been working. Better seeds are being used, new crops are grown, better methods of cultivation have been adopted, an increased acreage is planted every year, and a much greater production is being secured.

HAPPY RESULTS

Have Made Many Bellefonte Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Bellefonte citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Bellefonte by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. John Eckel, 231 E. Lamb St., Bellefonte, Pa., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and can say that I recieved more benefit from them than from any other remedy I ever tried. For some time I suffered from a dull, nagging pain through my back, extending into my limbs. I also had headaches and felt lame and tired all the time. When I attempted to stoop or lift I was seized with a dizzy spell. I was so restless at night and did not seem to have any strength. After using Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at Green's Pharmacy, the trouble all disappeared and I have not been so well in years as I am today. I do not hesitate to acknowledge the benefits I have derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name--Doan's--and take no other.

Take care of your stomach. Let Kodol digest all the food you eat, for that is what Kodol does. Every tablespoonful of Kodol digests 2¼ pounds of food. Try it today. It is guaranteed to relieve you or your money back. Sold by all druggists.

A healthy man is a king in his own right; an unhealthy man is an unhappy slave. Burdock Blood Bitters builds up some health--keeps you well.

ODD FELLOWS SELECT ALLENTOWN FOR 1910

Grand Encampment at Lock Haven Great Success.

INSTALL NEW OFFIGERS

Sessions During Week Were Interesting and Largely Attended Shamokin and Butler were Friendly Rivals for Next Year's Meeting.

Allentown was selected as the next place of meeting for the Patriarchs Militant and Grand Encampment of the I. O. O. F. which on Thursday of last week concluded the sessions at Lock Haven. Butler and Shamokin were competitors for the place for next year's meeting but Allentown finally won out.

An appropriation of $150 was allowed the department council for prizes to be awarded next year to Cantons of the Patriarchs Militant for competitive drills, etc.

Nominations for officers to be voted for as being in line for the office of Junior Grand Warden are David E. Dale, Butler; William J. Schauble, Erie; Harry F. Whiting, Carlisle; Robert Gorman, Philadephia; Fred and C. Hanyan, Scranton.

For grand representative to the Grand Sovereign lodge the following were nominated and are in line for this position: David E. Dale, Butler; Cleon Gicquelias, Past Grand Patriarch, of Pittsburg; Philip J. Vetter, Past Grand Patriach, of Scranton; J. P. Hale Jenkins, of Norristown.

The committee on courtesies were appointed and are as follow: Cleon Gicquelias, chairman: Joseph Hudson, J. A. Strite, L. J. A. Lesser and Robert Gorman.

By a vote of 85 to 33 the Grand Encampment went on record to use the present system of appointing the District Deputy Grand Patriarchs instead of electing them to this office as was proposed.

The new officers installed by the Grand Encampment were the following: John P. Klingensmith, grand patriarch, Leechburg; Robert W. Ricketts, grand high priest, Philadelphia; William L. Heiston, grand senior warden, Pittsburg; Usher A. Hall, grand scribe, Philadelphia; J. Henry Beitel, grand treasurer; Richard J. Lippey, grand junior warden, Easton; Amos A. Hall, grand representative, Butler.

Taft at the County Fair.

One would think the President was running for Congress to see him at a county fair. It has taken him no time to acquire the expert apple judge's expression, and, to see him enter a tent where the big pumpkins are heaped up and the corn is festooned around the poles, you unconsciously expect him to quote the prices he got last year from what he raised, and to speculate on the bumper crops he is planning to harvest. As soon as Mr. Taft found himself west of the Mississippi, he plunged into the fair belt. It was the open season in Nebrask, Colorado, Utah and Montana, and everywhere he went he saw the biggest farm products ever raised. He was also just a little bit surprised to learn how many garden spots each State owned. "Now, Mr. President," the mayor of this or that town would exclaim, as the automobile started from the train to take the presidential party to the fair grounds by way of the principal street, passing the house of the mayor himself, where the mayor's wife is gracefully posed with an American flag in her hand, and not forgetting to pause for a moment in front of the mansion built by Jones, who made his money in a private irrigation plant, but is now, we are very sorry to say, in Europe, so we can't have the pleasure of introducing him, "now, Mr. President, you are about to pass through the garden spot of the State. And these, Mr. President," the mayor continues, as the procession of bunting-covered automobiles whirls past a flock of young women lined up on the lawn of the court house, "these, Mr. President, are the prettiest girls in the State. This town, sir, is not only the center of the garden spot of the State, but it produces the prettiest girls west of the Mississippi." "There's no doubt about it; I quite agree with you!" exclaims Mr. Taft, beaming on the white-gowned group. "I think you are peculiarly fortunate, Mr. Mayor, in being the chief citizen of such a magnificent town. I congratulate you, and doubt not that I will see you in Washington." Arly Ess, Special Correspondent of Leslie's Weekly with Taft's Party.

You cannot be well, feel well, or look well if your kidneys are deranged. Foley's Kidney Remedy makes healthy kidneys and cures backache, rheumatism, and all disorders of the urinary organs. Restores health and strength. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."--Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.

Read "The Republican"--$1 a year in advance.

(From the Bostom Globe.)

A Large Boulder Fell in Front of a Passenger Train Going at Fifty Miles An Hour.

AND IT WAS ALMOST MIRACULOUS THAT EVERYONE OF THE TWO HUNDRED PASSENGERS WERE NOT CRUSHED TO DEATH.

When you read such startling head lines in the daily papers, did you ever stop to think how many lives are being crushed out daily by stones in the bladders of hundreds of human beings, because no remedy was ever known to medical science that would remove them until bloodine was discovered; and since bloodine has been found to be a specific for this terrible affliction, it has had the most phenomenal sale throughout the East and West, of any remedy ever known. Thousands of bottles having been sold in a single day in many of the large cities.

If you are suffering with stone in the bladder, aching pains over hips, backache, sediment or deposit in urine, irritation of the bladder, pain in urinating, rheumatism, uric acid in the blood, sudden stoppage of the urine, highly colored or milky white urine, pass blood or mucus in urine, retention of urine, straining after urinating, thick or sluggish urine, seystitis, inflammation of bladder, catarrah of bladder, or bowels, puffiness under eyes, voracious appetite, thirst, gall stones, gravel, pain in uretha, swollen ankles, dimmed vision, specks before the eyes, scanty urine, frequent calls, mouth dry, billiousness, dribbling, lumbago, weakness, loss of flesh, irregular heart action, ulceration of the bladder, skin pale, waxy and dry, bad odor of perspiration, don't delay, but send to your druggist and get a bottle of bloodine at once, if he does not keep bloodine, you can secure a six weeks' treatment, six bottles, for $2:50, or single bottles 50c, trial bottle and booklet 10c, from The Bloodine Laboratories, Boston, Mass.

Interesting to Auto Owners.

A common-sense decision, of interest to every automobile owner, has just been rendered by Judge Schmuck, of the New York City Court. A woman who was run down by an automobile owned by Colonel Agustus G. Paine sued the latter and secured a verdict against him from a jury. It was proved on the trial that Colonel Paine had told his chauffeur to take the car to the garage, and that the latter, disobeying the instructions of his employer, and without the latter's consent, took the car elsewhere, and in so doing ran over the woman.

Judge Schmuck, in granting a new trial said, "There can be no question that at the time of the injury to the plaintiff, the servant was not actually engaged in his master's business. It remains, therefore, to be determinded whether his conduct was a deviation or a departure from his employment. It is evident that at the time of the accident the servant had temporarily retired from his employment and was engaged in his own affirs." This seems to be sound common sense, and ought to be good law.—From Leslie's Weekly.

Why She Posed.

As a New York photographer bowed a sallow, tottering woman of middle age out of his studio he closed the door gently and turned to a waiting customer.

"That beats the Dutch," said he. "There's a woman who has been in bed two weeks and whose doctor supposes she is there at this moment. She is convinced that she is near death, and as she hasn't had any picture of herself taken since she was a child she got out of bed despite a friend's protest, dressed and came here to sit to me in order that she may leave a photograph to her husband, who is a traveling man and now in the far west.

"When a woman will she will. But that's a queer gamble with the big shadow, all right."—New York Globe.

Ours and Theirs.

"A play on names unconsciously perpetrated by my youngest son was very funny," said a Flatbush man yesterday. "We live next door to a family named Feltenour, and the other night while my family was busy reading in the library we heard a racket on the back porch. My son went out to investigate, and on his return my wife, always inquisitive, asked what had caused the noise.

"'Nothin' but a couple of cats,' Jim told her, and then I heard her ask, 'Did you see whose they were?'

"'Yes; one was ours and the other was Feltenour's.'"—New York Press.

Knew What Was Wanted.

Miserly—So that woman doctor charged you $2 a visit. Well, what did she say? His Wife—Said I stayed indoors too much. Here's her prescription. Miserly (reading it)—"For external use only. One nice walking dress; one new hat; one pair of gloves to match. Apply every afternoon between 3 and 5."—Boston Transcript.

Wounded Dignity.

Undersized young husband calls at the registrar's to give in the name of his firstborn.

Registrar—What is it you want?

Husband—To report the birth of a son.

Registrar—Go back, my little man, and tell your father he'll have to come himself!—Liverpool Mercury.

To accuse the wicked and defend the wretched is an honor.—Cicero.

ADVICE BEGGARS.

New Kind of Mendicants That Are Most Annoying.

"There is one class of individuals to whom no amount of philosophic reasoning on my part can ever reconcile me," said a charity worker the other day—"namely, the advice beggars. In the whole range of human inconsistency there is nothing else quite so irritating in the long run."

"Advice beggars?" queried a member of the group. "That is a new brand of mendicant to me."

"In name, yes; in reality, probably familiar," was the reply. "The term is one I have coined to express the large class of persons who absorb your time asking advice or information which they never under any circumstances make use of.

"My profession is one which tends naturally to a thorough acquaintance with the city. I know perforce the nature of the different public institutions, their scope and qualifications necessary to avail oneself of what they offer. I have also become acquainted in the course of my work with car routes, out of the way streets, squares, etc.

"Now, there is a class of persons among my social acquaintances who seem to think that, having acquired this knowledge, I am a kind of bureau of information, to be drawn upon at all times and seasons, and who act upon the theory to the extent of absorbing hours of my time.

"Don't mistake me. I am not one of the self centered beings who count any hour lost that is not devoted to money getting or personal pleasure. To assist the friend who comes in sincerity to ask for information with the only thing I have to give is real pleasure. But I have observed that nine out of every ten persons who seek advice never make use of it at all. These are the advice beggars. One can't quite believe that they firmly purpose the movements they are so eager to talk over.

"A shining example of this class of mendicant is an elderly friend of my mother. She has of late years been in somewhat reduced circumstances, and there is hardly a fortnight in which she does not hold us up to discuss at great length her affairs—business and personal. Some months ago there was talk in her family of obtaining a young girl from one of the orphan asylums to assist in the household in consideration of a good home. I spent two precious hours telling Mrs. S. how and where to go. I learned from another member of the family that the plan ended in vapor—as it began.

"Another time it was a question of free instruction for a young nephew of Mrs. G. in a craft for which he seemed to have talent. He seemed a good cause. I threw myself into it with enthusiasm, I advised, discussed, wrote letters of introduction. No motion was ever undertaken in the matter.

"These are but a few of many instances."

BEAUTY AND HEALTH.

Salt as a gargle will cure sore throat.

Tight clothes and indigestion cause red noses.

A hot bath taken at night affords refreshing sleep.

A little salt under the tongue will stop nose bleeding.

A raw egg swallowed will detach a fishbone in the throat.

High heeled boots are known to cause spinal complaints.

Sleep with the window well open and you will awake brisk.

The yoke of an egg broken up in rosewater is a trusty shampoo.

Salt on fingers when cleaning fowls, meat or fish will prevent slipping.

Headache will often yield to a foot bath without other treatment. Try it.

A little vinegar added to butter and sugar is an excellent remedy for hoarseness.

Too much food of any kind is never good for the complexion. Fruit is good, but it should be eaten in moderation.

Every night the housewife should rub cold cream into the base of her nails. To avoid the injurious effects of sweeping and dusting she should always wear gloves.

Wash the face in tepid water, rub the skin thoroughly with a Turkish towel and apply a solution of three ounces of cologne and half an ounce of liquor of potash. Follow this with a tepid soap bath.

The three "R's" of the worker should be regularity, rest and recreation. Spasmodic habits, never letting up and not knowing how and when to play have killed more business women than all their hard work.

For the Babies.

Although this advice is more directly for babies during the first year of life, the sense of it applies quite as well to other children.

Don't overfeed them and don't let them overfeed themselves.

Don't give them rich foods—meats, gravies, pastries, cake, etc.—nor a great variety. The simpler and plainer the better—plenty of milk, whole wheat bread, oatmeal, baked potatoes, baked apples and fresh fruits of all kinds, except bananas, in season, but be sure the fruit is ripe and fresh.

Keep up the daily bath until it becomes a fixed habit.

Keep them out in the open air as much as possible the whole year around and send them into the country whenever you can do so, but only to places where the water is pure.

Keep them cool.

Don't overdress them. The lighter and simpler the clothing the better.

—Try Admiral Coffee.

Pure Olive Oil for medicinal use—GET IT AT GREEN'S

Sechler's have fine oranges and bananas, Malaga grapes and other fruits. tf

For a clear head and a strong mind, DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little liver pills sold by all druggists.

For indigestion and all stomach trouble take Foley's Orino Laxative as it stimulates the stomach and liver and regulates the bowels and will positively cure habitual constipation. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

"It is true that under the law but 35 per cent of the inmates of a penitentiary can be employed in productive industry. That is a cruel law, and it has to be enforced, but the report states that the inspector did not find that any of the United States prisoners are suffering mentally from lack of employment."

If you are all run down Foley's Kidney Pills will help you, as they strengthen the Kidneys so they will eliminate the impurities from the blood that depress the nerves, and cause exhaustion, backache, rheumatism, and urinary irregularities, which sap the vitality. Do not delay. Take Foley's Kidney Pills at once. Sold by C. . Parrish.

Do not be deceived by unscrupulous imitators who would have you believe that the imitation pills are as good as DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. There isn't anything just as good as these wonderful pills for the relief of Backache, Weak Back, Inflammatian of the bladder, urinary disorders and all kidney complaints. Any one can take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills as directed in perfect confidence of good results. Sold by all druggists.

Central R. R. of Penna. Train Schedule.

Leave,
Bellefonte for Mill Hall. 7:05 A. M., 2:20 and 6:55 P. M.

Leave,
Mill Hall for Bellefonte, 8:33 A. M., 3:56 and 8:35 P M.

BELLEFONTE CENTRAL RAILROAD.—On and after Monday, Jan 25th, '09 trains will run as follows from C. R. R. station.

TRAINS TO STATE COLLEGE.

WESTWARD.	1 A M	3 A M	5 P M
Lv. Bellefonte	† 6.30	† 10.15	† 2.00
Coleville	6.35	10.20	2.07
Morris	f 6.38	.....	f 2.12
Stevens	f 6.43	.....	f 2.17
Hunters Park	f 6.46	.....	f 2.21
Fillmore	f 6.50	f10.34	f 2.26
Briarly	f 6.55	.....	f 2.32
Waddles	7.00	10.45	2.35
Krumrine	f 7.12	.....	f 2.50
State College	7.25	11.10	3.20
Strubles	f 7.27	.....	.....
Bloomsdorf	f 7.31	.....	.....
Pine Grove Mills	7.35	.....	3.40

* Daily, † Daily except Sunday. f Stopping.

TRAINS FROM STATE COLLEGE.

EASTWARD.	2 A M	4 A M	6 P M
Lv Pine Grove Mills	7.35	.....	6.2
Bloomsdorf	f7.40	.....	.....
Strubles	f 7.45	.....	f2.30
State College	8.00	11.50	5.00
Krumrine	f 8.07	.....	f 5.07
Waddle	8.20	12.10	f 5.25
Briarly	f 8.24	.....	f 5.30
Fillmore	f 8.28	12.18	f 5.35
Hunters Park	f 8.31	.....	f 5.40
Stevens	f 8.35	.....	f 5.43
Morris	f 8.37	.....	f 5.47
Coleville	8.40	1.30	5.50
Ar Bellefonte	8.50	12.50	6.00

Morning trains from Montandon, Lewisburg Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone connect with train No. 3 and 5 for State College. Afternoon trains from Montandon, Lewisburg, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone connect with train No 5 for State College Trains from State College connect with Penna. R. R. trains at Bellefonte to points east and west.

f Stops on flag.

† Daily except Sunday.

F. H. THOMAS, Supt.

Lincoln's Catarrh Balm

$500 REWARD for proof of any false testimonial herein. Lincoln's Catarrh Balm has the signed testimonials of men, stating that they were relieved quickly and cured of Catarrh, Colds Throat Troubles, Asthma and Hay Fever.

Ministers of the Gospel Recommend Lincoln's Catarrh Balm.

Rev. S. L. Messenger, Trappe, Pa.: Rev W. G. Brubaker, Phoenxville, Pa.: Rev. J. E. Freeman, East Mauch Chunk, Pa.: Rev. D. P. Longdort, Weissport, Pa.: Rev. A. J. Souillard, Lykens, Pa. and Rev. Albert Gonser, Mt. Carmel, Pa. write that they have used Lincoln's Catarrh Balm, and highly recommend it.

Catarrh, Asthma and Hay Fever Cured.

Wm. Heater, Allentown, Pa., writes: He suffered twelve years from Asthma and Catarrh, Lincoln's Catarrh Balm cured him.

John MacGregor, Bridgeport, Pa., writes That after suffering seven years with Catarrh and Hay Fever, Lincoln's Catarrh Balm cured him.

M. G. Snively, Bristol, Pa., writes: That he suffered fifteen years with Catarrh and Bronchial Troubles. One jar of Lincoln's Catarrh Cure in his case effected a cure.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa

Frank Kreig, Sergeant of Police, writes: That he takes great pleasure in recommending Lincoln's Catarrh Balm to his friends after using it found that it cured him of catarrh, which he had for about eight years.

Easton, Pa., October 18th, 1905.

S. H. Walter, writes: That he was cured two years ago by using Lincoln's Catarrh Balm, and has not been trouble with it since.

Pottstown, Pa., June 8th, 1909.

This certifies that I had Catarrh and throat trouble for six years. One jar of Lincoln's Catarrh Balm in my case effected a complete and perfect cure, I would not take one hundred dollars for the good it has done me.

H. J. Stringfellow.

BUY TO-DAY

A $1.00 Jar for 50c.

F. Potts Green, Bellefonte, Pa.

—OR—

H. A. Moore, Howard, Pa.

W. A. Sickel, Snow Shoe, Pa.

ROAD TO MAN'S HEART.

Confidences of a Pessimistic Spinster "Who's Had Experience."

Of course the moment one talks of the way to a man's heart one immediately thinks of the time worn saw as the most certain pathway, says a pessimistic spinster.

Not being quite Elizabethan or French—for our Gallic friends are indeed at times distressingly frank of speech—having, then, been brought up to a becoming modesty in language, I will merely say that this pathway was tersely indicated by the dear old lady who said:

"Feed the brute!"

As a matter of fact that road has been quite absurdly overrated.

As a means of keeping a man in a good temper there is truly nothing more powerful than a good dinner. But until you are married to him what chance, I ask, have you of feeding him?

Yet he falls in love with you!

Therefore must there be other ways to his wayward heart. And now I'll tell you some of them.

There are some men whose hearts are like a railway junction. You simply can't avoid the lines! And the moment you step on one—hey, presto—you're into the junction—I mean the heart.

No fun. No excitement. No nothing worth having. The only thing to be said for the whole business is that, being a junction, one can get out of it as easily as one gets in!

The quickest way to a man's heart—I mean a heart worth while, you know, not a boarding house that changes its lodgers every twenty-four hours—the very shortest road, is that you may bring him if you only make it almost but by no means quite impassable.

You see, if a man is any good he's a sportsman above everything. The things that give him most trouble to get are the things he wants. If the homeliest girl in America were only perched on a high tower, surrounded by a wall that was spiked all over, pretty nearly every man would be staring at her through telescopes and devising means for scaling the wall.

You've got to be as sweet and pretty and "come hitherish" as your type will admit. Yet make him realize that you are a dreadfully long way away and very swift of foot. That's the way to a man's heart.

Another thing men are—I don't wish to be rude, but really men are like sheep.

In their likes and dislikes, their habits and methods of thought, they follow one another in an absolutely farmyard manner.

So once you've found your way to one heart you can find your way to as many others as you like.

TO DISPOSE OF POSTCARDS.

A Decorative Use For These Souvenirs Which Is Exceedingly Attractive.

A novel way to dispose of picture postcards is shown in the illustration—an attractive box for holding potted plants, decorated with a few of the postcards, showing pretty views that happen to be among one's collection.

NOVEL WAY TO USE PICTURE POSTCARDS.

An ordinary soap box is used for the receptacle, and on the bottom corners small unfilled spools of cotton are glued in place for supports. The postcards are then pasted on the box, the finished product being edged with guimpe, put on with fancy tacks.

What "Grass Widow" Means.

Your note on the Australian grasshopper suggests his relationship to the grass widow, writes a correspondent to the London Chronicle, who goes on to demand the derivation of this last expression. Some would merely have it as a slang expression, but its appearance in the marriage register of Halstead, Essex, as early as 1654 suggests a less vulgar origin. It is said to be a corruption of grace widow and dates from the days when divorces were granted only by the authority of the church. The woman who was so empowered to separate from her husband was commonly called a grace widow, and from this the expression gradually gained its present meaning and spelling.

The Man Chaperon.

London mothers are said to be trying the experiment of the man chaperon on the occasions upon which they are not able to take charge of their daughters. There are always a number of old bachelors or widowers ready to dance attendance upon young girls, and they would be much more satisfactory to the girl as a general thing than the elderly woman chaperon.

ELECTION PROCLAMATION.

GOD SAVE THE COMMONWEALTH. I W, E. Hurley, High Sheriff of the County of Centre, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby make known, and give notice to the electors of the county aforesaid that an election will be held in the said county of Centre on the

FIRST TUESDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1909,

being the 2nd, of November, A. D 1909, for the purpose of electing the several persons hereinafter named, to wit:

One person for Judge of the Supreme Court.
One person for Auditor General.
One person for State Treasurer.
Two persons for Jury Commissioner.
And for the approval or dis-approval of certain Amendments to the State Constitution.

PLACES FOR ELECTIONS.

I also hereby make known and give notice that the place of holding elections in the several wards, boroughs, districts and townships, within the county of Centre is as follows:

For the North Ward of the Borough of Bellefonte, at the Logan Engine house on East Howard street.

For the South Ward of the borough of Bellefonte, in the Court House in Bellefonte.

For the West Ward of the borough of Bellefonte, in the carriage shop of L. A. McQuistion in Bellefonte.

For the borough of Centre Hall, in a room at Runkle's hotel.

For the borough of Howard, at the public school house in said borough.

For the borough of Millheim, in the old school house, now the Municipal building.

For the borough of Milesburg, in the borough building on Market street.

For the First Ward of the borough of Philipsburg, in the Reliance Hose house.

For the Second Ward of the borough of Philipsburg, at the Public Building at the corner of North Centre and Presqueisle treets.

For the Third Ward of the borough of Philipsburg, at the Hale school house, north east corner of Sixth and Presqueisle streets.

For the borough of South Philipsburg, at the dwelling house of John Summers.

For the borough of Snow Shoe, in the Borough building.

For the borough of State College, on the second floor of the Holmes building.

For the borough of Unionville, in the Grange Hall in said borough.

For the township of Benner, north precinct, at the Knox school house.

For the township of Benner, south precinct, at the Hoy's school house.

For the township of Boggs, north precinct, at Walkers' school house.

For the township of Boggs, east precinct, at the Hall of Knights of Labor, in the village of Curtin.

For the township of Boggs, west precinct, at the school house in Central City.

For the township of Burnside, in a building owned by Wm Watson at Pine Glen.

For the township of College, at the school house in the village of Lemont.

For the township of Curtin, north precinct, at the school house in the village of Orvis.

For the township of Curtin, south precinct, at the school house near Robert Manns'.

For the township of Ferguson, east precinct, at the public house of R. R. Randolph, in Pine Grove Mills.

For the township of Ferguson, west precinct, at Baileyville Hall in the village of Baileyville.

For the township of Gregg, north precinct, at Murray's school house.

For the township of Gregg, east precinct, at the house occupied by Wm. Sinkabine at Penn Hall.

For the township of Gregg, west precinct, in a room at Warren Wood's hotel at Spring Mills.

For the township of Haines, east precinct, at the school house at Woodward.

For the township of Haines, west precinct, at the hotel in Aaronsburg.

For the township of Half-moon, in I. O. O. F. Hall in Stormstown.

For the township of Harris, at the school house in the village of Boalsburg.

For the township of Howard, in the township Public building.

For the township of Huston, in a building owned by J. C. Nason in the village of Julian.

For the township of Liberty, east precinct, at the school house in Eagleville.

For the township of Liberty, west precinct, at the school house at Monument.

For the township of Marion, at the shop of Samuel Aley in the village of Jacksonville.

For the township of Miles, east precinct; at the dwelling house of Joseph Wolf at Wolfes' Store.

For the township of Miles, middle precinct, at the wagonmaker shop of W. J. Weber in Rebersburg.

For the township of Miles, west precinct, at the store room of Elias Miller in Madisonburg.

For the township of Patton, in the shop of John Hoy at Waddle.

For the township of Penn, in a building formerly owned by Luther Guisewite, at Coburn.

For the township of Potter, north precinct at the Old Fort hotel.

For the township of Potter, south precinct, at the hotel in the village of Potters Mills.

For the township of Potter, west precinct, at the store of George Meiss, at Colyer.

For the township of Rush, north precinct, at the school house at Cold Stream.

For the township of Rush, east precinct, at the school house in the village of Cassanova.

For the township of Rush, south precinct, at the school house in the village of Powelton.

For the township of Rush, west precinct, at the school house near Osceola Mills, known as Tower school house.

For the township of Snow Shoe, east precinct, at the school house in the village of Clarence.

For the township of Snow Shoe, west precinct, at the house of Alonzo A. Grove, in the village of Moshannon.

For the township of Spring, north precinct, in the ware room of David Miller, in Bush's Addition.

For the township of Spring, south precinct, at the Public house of John C. Mulfinger, in Pleasant Gap.

For the township of Spring, west precinct, in the Hall occupied by the Coleville band at Coleville.

For the township of Taylor, in the house erected for the election purposes at Leonard Merryman's.

For the township of Union, in the township Public Building.

For the township of Walker, east precinct, at the hotel of Frank Emerick, in the village of Nittany.

For the township of Walker, middle precinct, in Grange Hall in the village of Hublersburg.

For the township of Walker, west precinct, at the dwelling house of John Royer in the village of Zion.

For the township of Worth, in the Hall of the Knights of the Golden Eagle in the village of Port Matilda.

LIST OF NOMINATIONS.

The following is the official list of nominations made by the several parties, and as their names will appear upon the ticket to be voted on the 2nd day of November, 1909, at the different voting places in Centre county, as certified to, respectively, by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the Commissioners of Centre county:

REPUBLICAN.

State Treasurer.
J. A. Stober.
Auditor General.
A. E. Sisson.
Judge of the Supreme Court.
Robert von Moschzisker.
Jury Commissioner.
John D. Decker.

DEMOCRATIC.

State Treasurer.
George W. Kipp.
Auditor General.
James Woodward Clark.
Judge of the Supreme Court.
Cyrus Larue Munson.
Jury Commissioner.
J. Adam Hazel.

PROHIBITION.

State Treasurer.
Frank Fish.
Auditor General.
C. W. R. Smith.
Judge of the Supreme Court.
Harold L. Robinson.

SOCIALIST.

State Treasurer.
Ed. Moore.
Auditor General.
William Parker.
Judge of the Supreme Court.
Sydney A. Schwartz.

SPECIMEN BALLOT

To vote a straight party ticket, mark a cross [X] in the square, in the first column, opposite the name of the party of your choice.

A cross mark in the square opposite the name of any candidate indicates a vote for that candidate.

FIRST COLUMN
To Vote a Straight Party Ticket, Mark a Cross [X] in This Column

REPUBLICAN
DEMOCRATIC
PROHIBITION
SOCIALIST

State Treasurer. (Mark One.)

J. A. Stober,	Republican.
George W. Kipp,	Democratic.
Frank Fish,	Prohibition.
Ed. Moore,	Socialist.

Auditor General. [Mark One.]

A. E. Sisson,	Republican.
Jas. Woodward Clark,	Democratic.
C. W. R. Smith,	Prohibition.
William Parker,	Socialist.

Judge of Supreme Court [Mark One.]

Robt. von Moschzisker,	Republican.
Cyrus Larue Munson,	Democratic.
Harold L. Robinson,	Prohibition.
Sydney A. Schwartz,	Socialist.

Jury Commissioner. [Mark One.]

John D. Decker,	Republican.
J. Adam Hazel,	Democratic.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

A Cross [X] marked in the square at the right of the word "YES," indicates a vote FOR the Amendment.
A Cross [X] marked in the square at the right of the word "NO," indicates a vote AGAINST the Amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 1

Shall Section Eight of Article Four of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows?

He shall nominate and, by and with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Sec'y of the Commonwealth and an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, in offices to which he may appoint, during the recess of the Senate; by granting commisions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fil any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of Internal Affairs or Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a proper person to fill said vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to said office on the next election day appropriate to such office according to the provisions of this Constitution, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day, in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in confirming or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be entered on the journal.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO 2

Shall Section Twenty-one of Article Four of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows?

The terms of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer shall each be four years; and they shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections; but a State Treasurer, elected in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine, shall serve for three years, and his successors shall be elected at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and in every fourth year thereafter. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3

Shall Section Eleven of Article Five of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows.

Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or alderman shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs or townships, by the qualified electors thereof, at the municipal election, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for a term of six years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, not more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 4

Shall Section Twelve of Article Five of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows?

In Philadelphia there shall be established for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of police and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be six years, and they shall be elected on general ticket at the municipal election, by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be elected when more than one are to be chosen, they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county; and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as herein provided, as is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction or conferring political duties, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 5

Shall Section Two of Article Eight of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows?

The general election shall be held biennially on the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each even-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an even-numbered year.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 6

Shall Section Three of Article Eight of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows?

All judges elected by the electors of the State at large may be elected at either a general or municipal election, as circumstances may require. All elections for judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and for county, city, ward, borough and township officers, for regular terms of service, shall be held on the municipal election day; namely, the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each odd-numbered year, but the General Assembly may by law fix a different day, two-thirds of all the members of each House consenting thereto: Provided, That such election shall always be held in an odd-numbered year.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 7

Shall Section Fourteen of Article Eight of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows?

District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially, by the citizens at the municipal election; but the General Assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only: Provided, That such laws be uniform for cities of the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled, as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election, and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record, or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony, or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 8

Shall Section One of Article Twelve of the Constitution be Amended so as Read as Follows?

All officers whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, That elections of state officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day, except when, in either case, special elections may be required to fill unexpired terms.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 9

Shall Section Two of Article Fourteen of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows?

County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election, and until their successors shall be duly qualified; all vacancies not otherwise provided for, shall be filled in such manner as may be provided by law.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 10

Shall Section Seven of Article Fourteen of the Constitution be Amended so as to Read as Follows?

Three county Commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven and every fourth year thereafter, and in the election of said officers each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected; any casual vacancy in the office of county commissioner or county auditor shall be filled, by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled.

YES ☐ NO ☐

PROPOSED SCHEDULE FOR THE FOREGOING PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

A Cross (X) Marked in the Square at the right of the word "YES," indicates a vote FOR the Schedule.
A Cross (X) Marked in the Square at the right of the word "NO," indicates a vote AGAINST the Schedule.

SHALL THE FOREGOING PROPOSED AMENDMENTS BE CARRIED INTO OPERATION UNDER THE FOLLOWING SCHEDULE.

That no inconvenience may arise from the changes in the Constitution of the Commonwealth, and in order to carry the same into complete operation, it is hereby declared that—

In the case of officers elected by the people, all terms of office fixed by act of Assembly at an odd number of years shall each be lengthened one year, but the Legislature may change the length of the term, provided the terms for which such officers are elected shall always be for an even number of years.

The above extension of official terms shall not affect officers elected at the general election of one thousand nine hundred and eight; nor any city, ward, borough, township, or election division officers, whose terms of office, under existing law, end in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

In the year one thousand nine hundred and ten the municipal election shall be held on the third Tuesday of February as heretofore; but all officers chosen at that election to an office the regular term of which is two years, and also all election officers and assessors chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven. All officers chosen at that election to offices the term of which is now four years, or is made four years by the operation of these amendments or this schedule, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. All justices of the peace, magistrates, and aldermen, chosen at that election, shall serve until the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. After the year nineteen hundred and ten, and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide, all terms of city, ward, borough, township, and election division officers shall begin on the first Monday of December in an odd numbered year.

All city, ward, borough, and township officers holding office at the date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of December of that year.

All judges of the courts for the several judicial districts, and also all county officers, holding office at that date of the approval of these amendments, whose terms of office may end in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, shall continue to hold their offices until the first Monday of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

YES ☐ NO ☐

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That every person, excepting Justice of the Peace, who shall hold any office or appointment of profit or trust under the Government of the United States, or of this state, or of any city or incorporated district, whether a commissioned officer or otherwise, a subordinate officer or agent who is or shall be employed under the Legislative, Executive or Judiciary Department of the State or of the United States, or of any city or incorporated district and also that every Member of Congress and of the State Legislature and of the Select or Common Council of any city or Commissioners of any incorporated district is by law incapable of holding or exercising at the same time the officer or appointment of Judge, Inspector or Clerk of any Election of this Commonwealth and that no inspector, Judge or other officer of any such election shall be eligible to any office to be then voted for, except that of an election officer.

Under the law of this Commonwealth for holding elections, the polls shall be opened at 7 o'clock a. m., and close at 7 o'clock p.m.

Given under my hand and seal at my office in Bellefonte this 18th DAY OF OCTOBER, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Nine and the One Hundred and Thirty-fourth year of the Independence of the United States.

W. E. HURLEY
Sheriff of Centre County.

10 22

Here and There.

Inquire about GREEN'S $200 Razor Deal.

Mrs. Harry E. Fenlon entertained on Monday evening.

H. S. Taylor made a business trip to Buffalo this week.

Miss Eva Crissman has accepted a position at Miss Blanchard's basket shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Waite, of Altoona, were over-Sunday visitors in Bellefonte.

G. W. Holt, one of Unionville's well known business men, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday.

According to Webster's latest dictionary the proper pronunciation of the word "automobile" is automobul.

Mrs. Elmer Nace, of Philadelphia, who will be remembereed as Miss Mary Barry, of this place, is visiting Miss Emma Waite.

Misses Jennie Harper and Helen Ceader will give a $1 subscription dance on Saturday evening at the Logan Hose House.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Walker and Miss Marie Meek returned this week from their automobile trip to Boston and other points.

Lawyers Henry C. Quigley, Clement Dale and N. B. Spangler were in Philadelphia this week, arguing cases before the Superior Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swiler returned to Bellefonte during the forepart of the week, after an extended visit with friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. McAvoy returned from their honeymoon trip on Monday and the calithumpians gave them a noisy reception.

Miss Rebie Noll, daughter of Emanuel Noll, arrived home this week from the West, where she enjoyed a delightful visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. York.

"A Good Follow" at Garman's Opera Houselast night pleased an audience which was attracted there by the splendid show givenby the same company last year.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a chicken and waffle supper on Thursday evening, Nov. 4, in the lecture room of the church.

W. I. Fleming came up from Harrisburg early in the week to spend a few days at home and also to cast his vote for the straight Republican ticket on Tuesday, next.

J. Howard Lingle returned last week from Pittsburg, where attended to some business matters and also participated in the centennial services of the Disciple Church.

J. L. Montgomery was a visitor to New York early in the week, attending a meeting there on Monday in connection with the interests of the Pennsylvania Match Company.

A new baby in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Waite, Jr., is not only commanding the admiration of that household but also has placed a broad smile on the face of Grandfather Waite.

Keep in mind the "Centre County Fair" which is to be given in the near future for the benefit of the Elks Charity Fund. The Teddy Bear chorus, with 100 Bellefonte children, will be an interesting feature.

J. Thomas Mitchell spent Sunday at Burnham. Mrs. Mitchell arrived there on Saturday after quite an extended trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and they made the return journey home together on Monday.

Gustave Lyon, of Philadelphie, founder of the well known store of Lyon & Co., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grauer. Mr. Lyon is not only a progressive business man in Philadelphia but is interested in a patent which may add a few millions to his already comfortable fortune.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Maitland, of Williamsport, arrived in Bellefonte on Monday in their big automobile. They were accompanied by Miss Louise Harper, who has been visiting in Williamsport for a week or ten days. Mr. Maitland returned home early in the week but Mrs. Maitland is still visiting friends in town. Miss Louise Maitland, their daughter, is a guest at the Harper home, on West Linn Street.

Edgar T. Burnside departed on Tuesday for Denver, Colorado, where he will resume his work after a vacation of several weeks which was made necessary by the accident he sustained by falling from a bicycle. His many friends here were sorry to see him go away, but of course that could not be helped since Edgar is one of the foremost men in the scale business in Denver and his presence was needed in that hustling city.

John McKelvey, of Lamb street, planned going to Macon, Georgia, on Monday, with his son, Arthur, of Altoona. Shortly before train time Mrs. McKelvey complained of not feeling well, but it was not believed that her condition was at all serious. After some hesitation Mr. McKelvey started for the railroad station. He had been gone but a few minutes when Mrs. McKelvey was seized with an attack of heart failure. A messenger was sent to the station and fortunately found Mr. McKelvey just as the latter was boarding the train. We are glad to note that Mrs. McKelvey is somewhat improved at this writing.

Read "The Republican"--$1 a year in advance.

Mrs. Florence Dale entertained at bridge last Thursday evening.

Writing Tablets, paper, pencils, ink and slate sponges---at GREEN'S.

Jacob Finkelstine made a flying business trip to Harrisburg last Saturday.

Mrs. D. H. Hastings entertained at cards on Friday evening of last week.

Miss Lida Morris returned home on Saturday after a week's visit with friends at Pittsburg.

Mrs. Cameron Burnside has sent out cards for a "Kaffee Klatsch" today from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cassidy on last Saturday moved into apartments in Petrikin Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Stone, of Coatesville, who were guests of the Wilkinsons, departed for their home last Friday.

Wm. S. Furst, of Philadelphia, arrived in town yesterday and will visit his mother, Mrs. A. O. Furst, for several days.

Rev. and Mrs. Ambrose Schmidt returned on Tuesday from a ten days' trip to New York, Hanover, Baltimore and Washington.

Frank Millward, of Pleasant Gap, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday and marked up his subscription to "The Republican" for another year.

Secretary Weston, of the Y. M. C. A., gave a talk on Monday morning to the boys at the High School, using as his subject "A boy's ambition in life."

Cyrus Hunter, of Stormstown, genial and always smiling, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday and while here dropped into "The Republican" office for a little chat.

Ruth, the four-year-old daughter of John Leepert, tailor for Montgomery & Co., is ill with diptheria and her many little friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

The Nittany County Club has reached an agreement with the McMullen estate and expects to start work on the proposed new club house in the next few weeks.

Judge "Ben." Lindsey, known as the "Kid's Judge," of Denver, Col., delivered a humorous lecture at State College on Saturday. His subject was the "Misfortunes of Mickey."

Miss Carrie Brooks, who is a professional nurse in charge of tuberculosis stations in Bellefonte, Tyrone and Philipsburg, has removed to the latter place. She was formerly located at Tyrone.

The school ship "Adams," of which George Runkle, a Bellefonte boy, is captain, arrived in Philadelphia last Saturday with everybody well on board. Captain Runkle gave the boys a three weeks' leave of absence.

Dr. Walter Stewart, of Wilkes-Barre, and Mrs. Belle Reynolds, of California, were over-Sunday visitors at the Stewart home on West Linn Street. Miss Margaret Stewart, of Orangeville, is a guest of Mrs. Patsy Stewart and will remain for several days.

G. W. Rees, Internal Revenue Collector for this district, returned home on Saturday from Harrisburg where he was engaged for four or five weeks in transcribing and listing corporations doing business in Pennsylvania. The work was made necessary by the recently enacted Federal excise tax law.

W. Henry Thompson, of Pittsburg, State Superintendent of the Children's Home Society, spoke in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning and evening. Since its organization the society has placed 30,000 children in homes. On Monday Mr. Thompson and Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox went to Bellwood.

Salesman by a Philadelphia Wholesale Hardware House, to travel Tioga, Lyoming, Clinton, Centre, Clearfield, Potter, Jefferson and Elk Counties. Must be well posted in hardware line, and have an established trade. None others need apply. State age, married or single, and number of years in the business. Address Hardware, Box 1502, Philadelphia, Pa.

Althongh the weather was anything but satisfactory the football game on Saturday between the Dickinson Seminary and Bellefonte Academy elevens was well worth seeing. Neither side was able to score. The first part of the game was played in a driving rain. The two teams are evenly matched and with favorable weather should present a contest about as exciting as one could wish for.

There was much joy and rejoicing at State College over what was virtually a victory for the State football eleven in Saturday's game with the University of Pennsylvania team, at Philadelphia. State played a brilliant game. Each side scored 3 points by a goal from the field. The State eleven arrived in Bellefonte on Monday morning in a Pullman car and was accorded a royal reception when the boys landed at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crider have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Isabel Crider, to Charles Kirby Rath, of Elizabeth, N. J., on Tuesday evening, November 16, at six o'clock. Mr. Rath, the prospective groom, is a Division Passenger Agent of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, with headquarters at Newark, N. J. Mr. Rath was an over-Sunday guest at the Crider home. Today Mrs. Hugh N. Crider will give a luncheon in honor of Miss Crider.

Albert Irvin spent Sunday at Tyrone.

Read "The Republican"--$1 a year in advance.

W. B. Rankin was a visitor to Tyrone on Saturday.

Thirsty people now drink "Trickle"—GET IT AT GREEN'S

Miss Lulu McMullen, of Hecla Park, was a guest of Miss Anna Fox over Sunday.

The class in telegraphy will enroll on Monday evening at 7 o'clock, in Rooms No. 10 and 11, Temple Court.

Clarence V. Goodman, of Altoona, a son-in-law of Cyrus Hunter, spent Sunday at the latter's home at Stormstown. Clarence is a draughtsman in the Pennsylvania Railroad shops, at Altoona, and is making a record for himself of which his many friends are justly proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Decker, of Altoona, were in Bellefonte for a few hours on Monday, enroute home from Lemont where they spent two or three days with the former's father-in-law, Frederick Decker, who is 82 years old and remarkably vigorous for one of that honored age

The many friends of Mrs. Boyd A. Musser will be glad to learn that she is recovering nicely and that there is little danger now that she will lose the sight of her eye which was injured several weeks ago. While entering a train at Tyrone she was struck in the eye by the steel point of an umbrella, carried by a man in front of her. The injury was a very painful one and for a time it was feared that Mrs. Musser might lose the eye. Happily for her and much to the delight of a host of friends this danger is believed to have been passed.

What should be a good game of foot ball is scheduled for Hughes Field, on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the opposing elevens being those of the Bellefonte Academy and the Anderson School, of Altoona. The latter team is made up of former high school and preparatory school players and has been playing a fine game thus far, defeating the Lock Haven Normal boys 3-0 and tieing with one of the Pittsburg school teams which the Academy is endeavoring to schedule for a game. Saturday's game will be one of the last witnessed on the home grounds, so don't forget to attend and also be sure that you take your 25 cts. along.

A Successful Play.

The success of a play is usually gauged upon its reception by the audience of the big cities. "Miss Petticoats" is coming to Bellefonte on Monday, Nov. 1, and to all appearances it is a play of sterling worth and lasting success. The Boston Transcript comments on its initial performance at the Boston Theatre as follows.

"Miss Petticoats," a play in five acts and six scenes, dramatized by George T. Richardson from the book of the same name by Mr. Richardson in collaboration with Wilder Dwight Quint, under the pseudonym of Dwight Tilton, was presented in Boston for the first time, at the Boston Theatre last evening. A play constructed from a book written by well-known newspaper men, and appearing during the first week of its dramatic life in a Boston theatre, proved a combination that drew a large and distinctly friendly audience last night, and the applause was hearty and frequent. At times it was even enthusiastic, and at the end of the fourth act the actors were given a tripple curtin call."

Marriage Licenses.

Register Earle C. Tuten has issued the following marriages in the last week:

John K. Coleman Edith E. Houser	Bellefonte Houserville
Joseph W. Harvey Alice A. Johnston	State College Zion
George Immel Mabel N. Bowersox	Spring Mills " "
John Morris Minnie Hall	Snow Shoe " "
Charles W. Kepner Olive T. Piper	Altoona Nittany
Steve Perko Eve Noseye	S. Philipsburg Osceola Mills
Joseph E. Witherite Anne E. Feezer	Runville Yarnell

Fruit Exhibit at State College.

A large part of the fruit exhibited at the Centre County Fair was, through the kindness of the exhibitors, turned over to the Horticultural Deparment of the Pennsylvania State College. It has been placed in cold storage and will be on exhibition along with the fruit from every other county in the state during the meeting of the State Grange, December 21st to 24th, and Farmers' Week, December 27th to January 1st.

Horse Show Prizes.

Hugh Taylor, a son of Col. Hugh S. Taylor, won third prize in the pony class at the State College horse show last Saturday. The inclement weather prevented an outside display. Dr. John I. Robinson won a first prize with his yearling mare. Other prize winners included Andrew Lytle, who captured a second with his coach horses.

Session of Arch Deaconry.

The regular session of the Williamsport arch deaconry of the Episcopal Church was held in St. John's Episcopal Church on Monday and Tuesday, last. Bishop James H. Darlington, of the Harrisburg diocese, and twenty-five or more clergymen and lay delegates were in attendance.

When Man Was a Marine Animal.

It was M. Quintan, a French physiologist, who several years ago wrote a paper to show that the colorless fluid in which the red corpuscles of our blood float and which is called the "blood serum" is the same fluid as that which constituted the primeval sea. The earliest forms of life which floated in the primeval sea were such that the cells and tissues of which they were constituted were always bathed by this primeval fluid. When silica became a constituent of the sea these animals may have coated themselves with silicious coverings, but many of their cells were still bathed by the fluid, and some of them as they passed from the sea to the land may have closed up their alimentary canals, so that a distinction arose between their internal organs and their outer superficies, but still, for the good of their cells, they still bathed them in the saline fluid. To do so more effectively they took the saline fluid ashore with them in the form of a blood serum, and it is this blood serum which we carry about with us today, the most evident relic of the age when we were marine animals.

German Dialect In Wisconsin.

It is two German women who are speaking in the presence of an Irish woman.

"Th' tap o' th' mornin' t' ye, Mis' Brettschneider. 'Tis glad I am t' see th' likes av ye. Iss yer daughther Gretchen goin t' the Hill th' morrow?"

"Faith an' she is. Ven me bye Heinrich can get th' bay haarse away from th' plowin' I t'ink I'll go mesilf, bedad."

This is not travesty. It is a report of German dialect. The manner of speech came about naturally enough. When the Germans arrived here in full force the country was already settled, largely by Yankees and Irish, and the German had to buy his farm here or there. Thus a number of them found themselves located in the town of Erin, where, of course, they learned the language of the country. And I leave it to my fellow citizens in Wisconsin whether a German cannot speak as broad and rich a brogue as any son of Erin.—Charles D. Stewart in Atlantic.

First Use of Iron.

As a result of his interesting investigations, Dr. Ridgeway concludes that the smelting of iron originated in central Europe, and especially in the region known as Noricum, equivalent to modern Austria and Bavaria.

In Egypt it can be traced back to the ninth century B. C., and in Libya to about 450 B. C. First mention of its use in China goes back to 400 B. C., while in Uganda it is said to have been in use only some five or six centuries.

The above date for the first use of iron in Egypt refers to the metal obtained by smelting. The use of native iron in the form of meteorites dates back to remote antiquity. The weapons made from these were obtained, like flint implements, by chipping. And it is interesting to remember that recent investigations have shown that the iron of many meteorites is a sort of natural steel.

Old English Fine.

In the past if one Englishman called another a liar there was something to pay. The seventeenth century mayor, sheriff and city grandees generally were keen on this point of etiquette. The direct accusation cost 11s. 6d. ($2.76); the subtle hint 6s. 8d. ($1.60). And there was a reduction on repetitions.

Swearing, too, was promptly suppressed. In 1650 a law was passed laying down the penalty for a first offense. The fines were graduated. That for a lord was 30 shillings ($7.20), for an esquire 10 shillings ($2.40), while all "inferior persons" could have a "few words" for 3s. 4d. (80 cents).

Bolivia.

Bolivia is famous for its silver, but also possesses considerable quantities of gold, which, however, cannot be extracted without great expense. In the seventeenth century an Indian near the town of La Paz found a mass of native gold, supposed to have been detached from the neighboring mountain by lightning. Bolivia is, on the whole, in a backward condition, political changes and internal conflicts having hindered the development of its natural wealth.

Defined.

Johnny Wise—Pa, what is a prospective bridegroom? Mr. Wise—Well, my son, a prospective bridegroom nowadays is a young man prospecting for an heiress.—Punch.

Suffering.

Suffering overcomes the mind's inertia, develops the thinking powers, opens up a new world and drives the soul to action.—Anthony D. Evans.

Man's chief wisdom consists in knowing his follies.—Rochefoucauld.

Telegraphy Taught.

YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN

For Terms and Particulars,

Address,

TELEGRAPHER,

Bellefonte, Pa.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain unclaimed at the post office for the last week:

J. H. Fink, (plumber); Rev. C. W. Frey, J. H. Horten, R. B. Johnston, Teresa Kirk, C. R. Kline, R. Mastry, Dr. Eli Philips, L. C. Rutter, Blair Shawley, Chas. Snyder, J. Snyder, Edna Strawburg, Mrs. Eliza Walters. Foreign - Domenico DeBenedetto, Jaskin Lomaka, Givonini Roterico. Persons calling for these letters will kindly explain that the same have been advertised in "The Republican."

EDW. K. RHOADS

At his yard opposite the P. R. R. Passenger Station, sells only,

BEST QUALITIES

—(OF)—

ANTHRACITE and BITUMINOUS

COALS

Also, All Linds of

Wood, Grain, Hay, Straw and Sand.

Superior Screenings for Lime Burning. Builders and Plasterers' Sand.

TELEPHONE CALLS:

Bell 1312

Commercial 422

Hospital Notes.

Miss Owen is improving as well as could be expected.

Miss Willard, one of the nurses who was quite ill, is able to be up.

There are but thirteen cases receiving treatment.

Work on the new hospital buildings is progressing nicely.

Send us $1 and we will send you all the news in "The Republican" each week or one year.

The Main Thing About

FIRE INSURANCE

Is carrying a sufficient amount to really protect your property for after a fire one can only accept the result.

Better see to it that you are fully insured and in a company celebrated for prompt payment of losses; a good reliable company the only kind represented by us.

Also represent The Preferred Accident Insurance company of New York, which issues $5,000 Travel Policy at $12.00 per year.

Harry E. Fenlon

Temple Court - - - Bellefonte, Pa.

Real Estate Bought and Sold,

RENTS COLLECTED.

...NOTICE TO BASE-BALL FANS...

Complete set of the Pittsburg World's Champion Base-ball Players sent postpaid on receipt of 25c. Taken from original photographs, each individual player on a card. Just the thing for a Den. Send today. Supply limited.

ONE SET TO A PERSON.

The Advance Co.

3d St. & Duquesne Way. Pittsburg, Pa.

PERHAPS YOU ARE THINKING OF Letter-Heads

. . . . . AND . . . . .

Envelopes

Tell us your needs---We'll do the rest.

The Republican,

BELLEFONTE, PA.

LIME! - LIME! - LIME!

High Grade commercial lime. Agricultural Lime. Hydra Oxide "H-O" Hydrated lime. Ground lime for agricultural purposes. Crushed limestone for concrete work. Graded limestone for road making.

Works at Bellefonte, Tyrone, Union Furnace and Frankstown, Pa. PROMPT SHIPMENTS.

Address all communications and orders to:

American Lime & Stone Company,

TYRONE, PENNA.

Bellefonte Trust Company.

CAPITAL, $125,000.00 - - - - - - - SURPLUS, $30,000.00

Call and examine our Savings Department.

Acts as Executor, Administrator, Guardian, Trustee and Assignee.

—— OFFICERS ——

J. L. Spangler, ... President.
John P. Harris, ... Treasurer.
Ross A. Hickok, . . Vice President.
Isaac Mitchell, Asst. Treas. & Sec'y.

—— DIRECTORS ——

J. L. Spangler, — Ross A. Hickok,
C. T. Gerberich, — A. C. Mingle,
J. Henry Cochran, — Claude Cook,
John P. Harris.